

NEHRU-KISHI TALKS

TOKYO, Oct. 6.—The Japanese Foreign Minister, Mr. Aichihiro Fujiyama, told correspondents at the conclusion of the second round of Nehru-Kishi talks at Hakones last night that the two Prime Ministers were agreed on the broad issue of a ban on nuclear tests but differed on the 'method and details' of bringing it about.

The Foreign Minister who was present at the talks said most of the talking was done by Mr. Nehru who explained India's stand on international problems. Mr. Kishi also outlined Japanese stand on these problems.

The main subject at the talks, Mr. Fujiyama said, was ban on nuclear tests. Economic questions were 'not much discussed', he added.

The Minister disclosed that Mr. Nehru in the course of the talks gave reasons which led India to recognise the People's Republic of China.

He said Mr. Nehru's detailed analysis of India's policy on international questions would enable the Japanese Government to have a better understanding of the Indian policies.

Another and a final round of talks between Mr. Nehru and Mr. Kishi is likely before the Indian Premier concludes his ten-day tour of Japan.

The talks which were in continuation of those held on the 'pressing problems of the day' for two hours at Mr. Kishi's residence in the morning had for their venue the Fujiyama hotel where the two Asian leaders dined.

Mr. Nehru and Mr. Kishi had earlier in the afternoon travelled by a special train to Hakone lying at the foothills of Mount Fuji—their scheduled travel by car having been cancelled at the Indian Prime Minister's personal request.
