CASES FOR SMALL CURRENCY NOTES.

The Government of India have made arrangements though a commercial firm for the production of cases to hold the small currency notes of Rs. 2/8/0 and Re. 1. About 100,000 cases are being made, and it is hoped that this will stimulate private firms to take up the manufacture of these cases as a matter of commercial enterprise. The cases are made of green waterproof canvas and should prove a cheap and affective means of protecting the notes, and at the same time, tend to increase their popularity. The price 2 annas has been fixed as low as possible, so that the cases may be available for all classes. They will be on sale from January 1st 1919, at practically all Post Offices.

It is also understood that a metal case in book form is being tried and that this has been designed especially for the riverine districts of Bengal.

MIZO TLANGVAL 2000 FRANCE RAMA - AN CHANCHIN (Sap tawngin)

The 27th Lushai Labour Corps was formed at Aijal in April 1917 and despatched to work in France in the last week of the same month. The corps landed on French soil in the middle of June 1917 and it was formed in to four companies namely the 26th, 27th, 28th, and 29th Indian Labour Companies.

All the Lushai Companies were employed near the Arras sector of the firing line. At first a few they were employed on salvage under the instruction of Canadian Royal Engineers. After they were employed on various works such as felling trees, converting of logs, burning charcoal, lo ling and unloading war materials for the front, in digging trenches behind the firing line for defensive purpose and making ways and tramways and some times in ammunitions dumps and in sawmills. Some of the companies together with Canadians and German prisoners some also with Chinese labourers. At first they were new to the climate and their work but after accustomed to the climate and being quick in their work, though small and short in stature they could always finish their jobs sooner than others.

40 11 of the Labour Corps always appreciated and 11 11 their industry and the outturn of their labour.
 11 11 were somewhat near the firing line, the ene-
 11 11 long range gun shelled their camps and sometimes Aeroplanes also dropped bombs on the camps. But the Lushais were always steady and they never showed alarm. The 29th Company was mentioned in Army Order for the steadiness and manliness of the Officers and men when the enemy shelled them when they were working near Yties and 26th Company was also mentioned for the same reason when the men were shelled at Moringnoiles. The Commandants of the Companies who came to Aijal also highly praised the Officers and men under their commands and lent their high opinion, on record.

Mr. Needham our esteemed Sub-Divisional officer, Ladies and Gentlemen:— I feel honoured and delighted that I am privileged to-day to stand here in this place, and on this occasion on behalf of all the people in South Lushai to offer Mr Needham our esteemed Sub-Divisional officer our words of respect and welcome.

We, the chiefs and people of South Lushai desire to record our great appreciation of his rule over us during his term of service in our country and his kindness to our Lushai Labour Corps while in France.

He ever treated rich and poor with the same consideration, and governed with strict impartiality. No matter who came to him with a complaint he always listened to them attentively, and they were able to speak to him without fear. Moreover his decisions invariably gave satisfaction, for we knew that they were just and right. Therefore during his residence in our country we lived in peace, happiness and contentment. Before he came to our land we were in extreme anxiety about the debt which we had incurred by taking Government rice during the recent famine. We knew how much each village had to pay, but no one was able to explain to us how much of that debt each individual family was responsible for. But upon his arrival he went carefully into the matter and explained every thing to us so clearly that our anxiety ceased. To those of us who had nothing to pay, he gave work and enabled us to earn sufficient money. In this and in other ways he helped us and through his wise administration we were able to discharge the debt which at first many of us thought we should never be able to repay.

When it became necessary for some of us to go to France as Labourers to help the Government in the present war, he did the recruiting in such a manner that there was no disturbance and when it was known that he himself was going to France in command of the Labour Company many joined up with gladness, others who would otherwise have gone with tears went with joy because he went with them. This we cannot forget.

When in God's goodness we had all been taken safely to France, the Lushai Headmen and Labourers always spoke in their letters of the kind way in which he treated them and of his care for their welfare. These letters greatly cheered their parents and families at home, and made them happy and free from anxiety about those who were in that far off land. It was not only those letters which cheered us, the words of our Missionary Mr. Lorrain did so too, when speaking to a crowded meeting of Lushais after his return from France he told us of his kindness to those under his care, and how he was doing every thing that was possible for their comfort and welfare. He told us also, that on one occasion, when the Germans were very active in dropping bombs, it became necessary to protect the camp by building parapets of sand-bags round the different tents, but as sand-bags were difficult to obtain the process took several days and although during all that time the danger was so great it was not until all the Lushai huts had been first protected that he had sand-bags put round his own. This incident greatly delighted every one present and brought to our mind the words of Christ, "The good Shepherd giveth his life for the sheep." But mere words are insufficient wherewith to express our thanks for all that he has done for us and our country, and we would therefore ask him to kindly accept this silver tea-pot as a token of our affectionate gratitude and esteem and as a pledge that we shall ever remember with pleasure the days when he ruled over us
