List of Europeans and others in the English Factories in Bengal at the time of the Siege of Calcutta in the year 1756.

PREFACE.

THE capture of Fort William in the year 1756 is one of the most prominent incidents in the history of the British in Bengal, not merely as one of the first great clashes of arms between the British and the Natives of the country, nor because of the sufferings of those who took part in the defence or underwent the hardships of the long stay at Fulta, but for this reason, that the behaviour of the Nawab, Siraj-ud-daula, forced the Honourable East India Company to reconsider the whole question of its relations with the native Government of Bengal. Up to the outbreak of the war the Servants of the Company had been satisfied to pose as foreign traders, practically unarmed, and not presuming in Bengal—whatever they had done in Southern India—to take any active share in the political arrangements of the country. Siraj-ud-daula by his violent action convinced the Company that its merchants must be no longer looked upon as mere foreigners but as lords of the country in which they resided for the purposes of trade. It took nearly ten years to realize this fact and perhaps still longer to acknowledge it, but the recapture of Calcutta is the starting point of the new idea. It therefore becomes a matter of interest to know something about the Europeans who were in Bengal at the time, and to whose hands fell the task of accomplishing the Revolution. Very few of their names are to be found in the Dictionary of National Biography and again not too many are to be found even in the Records of the East India Company. All that can be done is to make as complete a list as possible from the records at our disposal and to trust to the future to fill in further details. The conquest of Bengal is no Norman Conquest. The British in India do not boast that their ancestors came with Clive on his mission of delivery and vengeance, for there has been no British colonisation of Bengal and the sons of the conquerors have but seldom followed in their fathers' footsteps. There must, however, be in Great Britain many families whose relationship with the India of the past is not wholly forgotten, and if this compilation ever reaches their eyes, I hope the dry details of what is, after all, only a Directory of Bengal in 1756 may awake the remembrance of the ancestral bond and cause them to look up old letters and documents from which fresh light may be thrown upon the life story of as bold a set of adventurers as ever left the shores of Britain to build up our great Empire of to-day.

Of the inhabitants of Calcutta in 1756 it is perhaps natural that our greatest interest should attach itself to the names of those persons who actually perished in the Black Hole, and it will perhaps be useful to summarise the information we possess as follows:—

Luke Scrafton, one of the Company's servants, who was stationed at Dacca during the time of the siege, says that when the Black Hole was opened on the morning of the 21st and Siraj-ud-daula was told of the sufferings of the English "he testified no concern (and even then might have saved the lives of many who had some little life left in them, and might have been recovered by bleeding and proper care) but suffered, if he did not order them, to be thrown with the dead into the ditch." This added horror, prophetic of the behaviour of the mutineers at Cawnpore, seems to be based on a remark in Holwell's letter of the 3rd August 1756, written from Hughli, in which he says that the number of those who died in the Black Hole was only 123, "many recovering after air was let in by the opening of the door in the morning, and many more I doubt not might have recovered had any means or care been taken of them." Holwell himself mentions that Captain Purnell died next day, and a French account, dated Chandernagore the 3rd July 1756, says the same of Mr. Eyre.

* Was certainly alive in 1757.

Those who survived the Black Hole are perhaps equally deserving of mention. Holwell* gives only eleven names:—

- | | |
|----------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1. John Zephaniah Holwell; | 6. Edward Walcot; |
| 2. Richard Court; | 7. Mrs. Mary Carey; |
| 3. John Cooke; | 8. Captain John Mills; |
| 4. Henry Lushington; | 9. Captain Alexander Dickson; |
| 5. John Burdett; | 10. Patrick Moran; |

11. John Meadows;

to whom we can add from Captain Mills—

- | | |
|---------------------|-----------------------|
| 12. Thomas Meadows; | 17. Philip Cosall; |
| 13. John Angel; | 18. Peter Thomas; |
| 14. John Burgalt; | 19. John Gatliff; |
| 15. John Arnd; | 20. John Bolts; |
| 16. John Jones; | 21. Barnard Clelling; |

22. Richard Aillery;

and from the East Indian Chronologist—

23. John Roop.

To the list of those who perished in the Black Hole may be added from the Fulta Lists and Orme's "List of inhabitants who took part in the Siege" the following persons who died during the Troubles:—

I.—Company's Servants—

1. Ralph Thoresby, killed at Perrins.
2. Thomas Bellamy, shot himself on the wall.
- 3 and 4. Charles Smith and Robert Wilkinson, killed in Lieutenant Blagg's sortie.
- 5, 6, 7 and 8. The Rev. Robert Mapletost, Thomas Hyndman, Francis Vassmer and William Lindsay, died of fever at Fulta.

II.—Military—

9. Captain William Keene, from Balasore.
10. Captain-Lieutenant Peter Smith, killed in the fighting.
11. Lieutenant John Elliot, shot himself after the surrender of Cossimbazar.
12. Ensign Edward Walcot, died of his sufferings in the Black Hole and the journey in an open boat to Murahidabad.

* In his letter to the Court of Directors, dated 30th November 1756, paragraph 36, Holwell writes:—
 "Thus, Hon'ble Sir, I have given you as faithful a picture of the Commanders of your five Companies as I can draw..... Three of them, my wretched companions in the Black Hole, perished there, as did also all your brave subalterns (Ensign Walcot and Carstairs excepted)." Walcot was certainly in the Black Hole; was Carstairs another survivor? Perhaps Lieutenant Talbot (see No. 64) should be considered one of the survivors. I am somewhat doubtful of Captain Mills' accuracy in regard to Christian names, and am inclined to think that one of the Meadows should be excluded from the list of survivors. It seems curious that out of the 23 survivors no less than 12 should have been named John.

III.—Medical—

13. Dr. William Inglis, the Company's Doctor at Calcutta.
14. Dr. Nathaniel Wilson, Surgeon of Dacca Factory.

IV.—Others—

15. Captain Pickering, killed at the guns.
16. Surman, Carpenter.
17. Bruce, Court Servant.
18. Coverley, Jailor.
19. Osborne, Sail-maker. Possibly same as Captain Michael Osborne.
20. Daniel Macpherson, a foreigner.
21. James Macpherson, the Company's Cooper. Died at Fulta.
22. Montrong, a foreigner.
23. Captain Coquelin, a foreigner.
24. Janniko, a fiddler.
25. Captain Michael Collings, drowned whilst trying to escape.
26. Johnson, a farrier.
27. Whitby, a seafaring man, killed in the fighting.
28. William Tidecomb, a seafaring man, killed in the fighting, or died at Fulta.
29. Solomon Margas, an ex-Company's servant, died at Fulta.
30. Captain David Graham.
31. Laing, a seafaring man.
32. Captain Thomas Best, wounded at Tannah Fort and died at Fulta.
33. Captain Robert Baldwin.
34. Mr. Nicholson.

V.—Ladies*—

35. Mrs. Elizabeth Cruttenden.
36. Mrs. Ann Gooding.
37. Mrs. Dorothy Bellamy.

VI.—Children—(There must have been many, we know of only one.)

38. Charlotte Becher, died at Fulta.

It remains only to say a few words about the sources from which the List has been compiled. Most of them are given in the note which stands at the foot of every page. A few additions have been made from the Bengal Obituary (see Thornhill), the East Indian Chronologist (see Roop), and from the accounts of persons † who give too little additional information to make it necessary to note them separately.

(a) Holwell's Lists.—These are three in number—

- (1) The List appended to his letter of the 3rd August 1756, written from Hughli to the Council at Fort St. George, Madras.
- (2) The List appended to his "Genuine narrative of the deplorable deaths of the English gentlemen and others who were suffocated in the Black Hole in Fort William at Calcutta, etc."

* In a letter dated the 20th January 1757 one G. W. writing to his brother-in-law, Mr. Ferguson, says of the British at Fulta:—"Above two thirds of the men died of fluxes and fevers: the European ladies held out the best of all; for few or none of them died, which was surprising as they scarce had cloaths to wear."

† Captain David Rennie, Mr. John Cooke, and Mr. William Lindsay.

- (3) The Epitaph on the monument which he erected in Calcutta at the north-west corner of Dalhousie Square, supposed to be the spot upon which the dead bodies taken from the Black Hole were buried.

These lists, as far as they refer to the Black Hole, are almost exactly the same, and mutually contradictory only in the case of Stephen Page, who in the letter of the 3rd August is, I believe by a mistake, put down amongst those who deserted the Fort, and again as Captain Stephen Page, one of the victims.

(b) Holwell's Letters.—These, of course, contain the names, not only of those who were killed, but of some who survived the Black Hole and of a number of persons who were present at the siege. The most important of these are as follows:—

- (1) and (2) Letters to the Councils at Fort St. George and Bombay, dated 17th July 1756. (Duplicates.)
- (3) Letter to the Council at Fort St. George, dated 3rd August 1756.
- (4) Letter to the Council at Fulta, dated 25th October 1756.
- (5) Letter to the Court of Directors, dated 30th November 1756.
- (6) Letter to William Davis, dated 28th February 1757.
- (7) Letter to the Court of Directors, dated — August 1757.

(c) Lists of European Sufferers.—On the recovery of Calcutta many Europeans put in claims for damages. One of the conditions in the Treaty which placed Mir Jafar on the masnad was that he should recoup the Company and individual Europeans for their losses. Payments of this nature are entered in detail in Public Proceedings of the 4th and 29th December 1759, the 31st January, 3rd March, and 1st May 1760. At first sight it might be supposed that all persons claiming restitution must have been in Bengal during the siege, and, generally speaking, this is true; but there are a number of claims on account of the estates of deceased persons. Some of the claimants on these accounts were certainly not in Calcutta during the siege, and some of the deceased had died before the siege. For the presence, therefore, of persons belonging to either of these classes corroborative evidence is required.

(d) General Journals.—These are the monthly accounts of the Company's expenditure in Bengal. Fortunately, when all other Records for 1756 were lost, these were preserved, and they give many details of the expenditure at Fulta, the place of refuge to which most of the English betook themselves on the fall of Calcutta. They tell us very little of the refugees at Hughli and other places, but enable us to fill in a number of Christian names and personal details not ascertainable from any other sources. I found these Journals in the charge of the Comptroller General, and they have been of the greatest possible assistance.

(e) Public Proceedings and Letters to and from Court.—These are by no means in a satisfactory condition, and the labour of searching through them has been very tedious. The Public Proceedings, apart from the lists of European Sufferers, are of use chiefly to supply the names of persons who sent provisions or military stores into the Fort a few days before the siege, or who claimed payment for bonds or goods lodged, for safe custody or trade purposes, in the Fort and lost during the siege. The Letters of the Council at Fort William to the Court of Directors contain details regarding persons who figured in the siege, but as the Council finally determined to submit no official report of the loss of Calcutta to the Court of Directors, on the ground that its members could not agree upon any unanimous narrative,* these letters are not as useful as they might be. The letters from the Court of Directors to the Council at Fort William of course contain only such information as was supplied to them by official or private letters. One learns a little from these letters, but not much.

(f) Account by George Gray, Junior.—This was attached to a letter from Messrs. Watts and Collet, dated Chandernagore, the 16th July 1756, and is probably the earliest English account of the siege. Mr. Gray stood to his duty throughout the siege, and made his way to Chandernagore in the confusion which followed the capture of the Fort, thus escaping the horrors of the Black Hole.

(g) The Fulta Lists.—I give this name to certain lists of persons killed in the fighting and in the Black Hole, of persons who took refuge at Fulta, both men and women, and of persons captured at the other Factories. These were, I believe, compiled at Fulta or in Madras from lists sent down from Fulta, and were sent home apparently in private letters, where they were published in English and Scotch newspapers. Drawn up in the confusion and distress of Fulta, they appear to me to be of rather doubtful accuracy, and therefore need corroboration. At the same time, they give details of the deaths of certain persons in the fighting (see Blagg, Curse, etc.) which are so circumstantial that they cast doubt upon Holwell's Lists and make one inclined to doubt their absolute accuracy. I believe the horrors of the "Hell in Miniature"† were so great, that in his delirium Holwell saw again the faces of men who had been killed during the siege—not only saw but spoke to them. His first list is dated 3rd August 1756, only about six weeks after the fatal night. It was drawn up before he could have recovered from the effects of his sufferings in Calcutta, his journey, ill and feeble as he was, in an open boat to Murshidabad, and his imprisonment at that place. These continuous tortures must have impressed the hallucinations of his delirium indelibly on his mind, so that later on when he erected his monument to his fellow-sufferers he relied on his own memory only. I should mention that attention was first drawn to the Fulta Lists by Mr. T. R. Munro, of the Port Commissioners' Office.

(h) Lists of the Company's Servants in 1756 and 1757.—When the Council at Fort William decided it could not agree upon an unanimous account of the Troubles,‡ it coolly informed the Court of Directors that, if they would compare the list of Covenanted servants of 1757 with that of 1756, the Court

* See General Letter to Court, 31st January 1757, paragraph 1.

† This expression occurs in a letter, extracts from which were printed in the Edinburgh Courant, 7th June 1757. The concluding sentence runs:—"Four of us were sent to the Nabob's Camp, and put into irons; but what became of the other twelve that escaped Hell in Miniature, I have not been able to learn." From this it would appear that the writer was one of the four who were sent to Murshidabad, viz., Holwell, Court, Burdett and Walcot.

‡ This term is always used in the letters of the time to describe the period of war with Siraj-ud-daula. Similarly, the war with Mir Kasim is referred to as "The Troubles with Cossim Ally" (Military Calendar, Volume II, page 74, note). Old Anglo-Indians used to speak of the Mutiny in 1857 as "The Mutinies."

would see who had died and who were still living.* These lists were, as was usual with work done, in those times, for the Council at Fort William, carelessly drawn up, but they supply us with a little information regarding the occupations of the various Company's servants, the length of their service, and their ages at the time of the siege. The oldest amongst the Civilians (Holwell) was 45 years old, the youngest, eight in number, were only 18. Of these eight, four died in the Black Hole, two survived, one escaped after the capture of the Fort, and only one is accused of having followed the example of Governor Drake, whilst another account says he also escaped after the capture of the Fort.

(i) Mr. Tooke's and Mr. Orme's accounts.—Mr. William Tooke was a Factor in the Company's service and a Volunteer at the time of the siege. He wrote a voluminous account of the Troubles, parts of which appear to have been included in a letter by Orme to Robert Clive. Orme was at Madras at the time, but he had large business interests and many friends in Bengal. In his manuscripts, preserved in the India Office, there is a mine of information from which every historian of the period has extracted fresh nuggets, but no one, as yet, seems to have thought it his duty to publish them as a whole.

(j) Orme's List of Inhabitants, who bore arms at the late siege of Calcutta.—This is exactly what it calls itself. Being the only list of its kind, it is, perhaps, ungracious to remark that it would have been much more useful if Orme had given the Christian names of the people mentioned and if he had said how the people, whom he describes as having perished during the Troubles, actually did die.

(k) Parish Register of St. Anne's Church.—The writings of the Rev. H. B. Hyde have made every one familiar with the fact that the first English Church in Calcutta was that of St. Anne, on the site of the present Council Chamber of the Bengal Government. Mr. Hyde copied, with his own hand, the Parish Register of this Church, and from his copy I have recovered the Christian names of a large number of the persons who lived in Calcutta at this time, and the names of their children. As the Parish Register ceases abruptly early in 1756 † and the new Parish Registers begin in 1757, not only is the Fulda period (June to December 1756) blank, but also the preceding three or four months. Accordingly, there is a little doubt about the names of the children. I have entered as doubtful the names of some persons of little importance who appear in the lists of marriages and christenings, though I have not always been able to obtain corroborative evidence of their being actually alive at the time of the siege.

(l) Captain Mills' Packet Book.—This is among the Orme manuscripts. Captain Mills was a rough seaman; he gives us the names of certain persons not mentioned by more dignified writers. His lists, as I have said above, enable us, with one addition (see Roop), to complete the tale of twenty-three who survived the Black Hole.

* See General Letter to Court, 31st January 1757, paragraph 32.

† The latest entry in the Parish Register of St. Anne's is dated February 10th, 1756, and the earliest in 1757 is one dated January 8th.

To the above sources must be added the Ecclesiastical Records now contained in the Record Office of the High Court of Calcutta. To these I was allowed access by the kindness of Sir Francis Maclean, Chief Justice of Bengal. Amongst them are a number of Wills and Petitions for letters of administration to the Estates of persons who died intestate. From these many Christian names and, in a few cases, Professions and Relationships have been traced.

A number of corrections and additions have been made from notes kindly supplied me by His Excellency, Lord Curzon.

In submitting this List to the Public I wish to call attention to the fact that it is almost impossible to be absolutely certain of the spelling of proper names. The same documents, whether legal or commercial, often show the same name spelled in two or even three different ways, and one is often at a loss whether to choose the form which is probably correct or the form which is certainly the most common.

Baillie, Captain Robert	(c), (e), (g), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. Sea-captain. This is probably the Mr. Baillie, who, according to the Fulta Lists, took refuge at Fulta. He was a brother of William Baillie. Public Proceedings, 14th November 1757. See also Public Proceedings, 5th February 1757. The Parish Register records, 5th February 1733, the birth of Robert, and, the 9th November 1736, the birth of Mary, children of Captain Robert Baillie and Philadelphia his wife.
Baillie, William	(a), (b), (e), (g), (h), (j)	Eleventh of Council and Military Store-keeper. Arrived 3rd September 1745. According to Holwell he died in the Black Hole, but the Fulta lists say he was killed in the fighting. So also does the French account of 3rd July 1756. He was son of Dr. Baillie, a Scotch gentleman and late judge of the Vice-Admiralty Court in Ireland. (Grose .)

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Baldwin, Captain Robert	(d), (g), (f)	he is described as a Free Merchant, and in Committee of Accounts of 1st June 1757, he asks for payment of his bill for stores delivered into the Fort before the siege, and by letter of 5th October 1757, for speedy repayment of his losses. The Fulta Lists say he took refuge at Fulta. Orme and Holwell say he was an Ensign of Militia and went on board on the 18th.
Ballard, George	(a), (h), (f)	Captain of the Fame , which escaped to Fulta. (List of vessels.) The Fulta Lists say he took refuge at Fulta and died before the completion of the lists. Payment for victualling General Journal for June and July 1756.
Balvard, Thomas	(c)	Writer, Assistant in the Treasury. Arrived 4th August 1755. Volunteer. Died in the Black Hole. Not mentioned in the Fulta Lists.

Names.	Authorities.	Remarks.
Barclay, Mrs. (Mary)	(d), (e), (g), (k)	The Fulta Lists say she took refuge at Fulta. Probably she was Mrs. Mary Barclay, wife of Mr. Alexander Barclay, Mariner (see Parish Register, January 1756; Alexander Barclay, Mariner, married Mary Harrison, widow). To the Public Proceedings, 22nd January 1756, is appended an agreement between Captain Alexander Barclay, Mariner of Calcutta, Commander of the Swift , and Omichand, for a voyage to Patta in East Africa, so he was probably absent at the time of the siege, returning early in September, as the General Journal for December 1756 shows him to have received diet money for September to December 1756.
Barclay, Captain Alexander
Barnard, Thomas	(i)	Accompanied Drake in his flight.
Barnet, (William)	(c), (g), (f), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Orme mentions a Barnet, a joiner. The Fulta Lists say he was a sea-faring man (f), and that he died in the Black Hole. Not mentioned by Holwell . A certain William Barnet, sailor, married Pasqual de Rosara, 31st July 1732, and died 6th October 1734.
Barnet, Sophia	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 29th December 1759.
Bartley, Ann	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, and 3rd March 1760.
Barton, Captain James	(d), (c), (i)	The General Journal of February 1756 mentions his two children, James and Elizabeth. On 6th January 1737 he had married Mrs. Ann Pierce. By General Letter from Court, dated 3rd March 1758, he was appointed Master Attendant, and he was buried 7th July 1759.
Bastianis, Michael	(k)	Mentioned as alive with his wife Susanna in October 1755, and again 7th December 1757, where he is described as Dutch Secretary at Chinsarah.

NAMES.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
		Arrived 25th September 1746. The Fulta Lists say he was made prisoner at Cossimbazar, and Holwell (Letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 16) and Orme say he escaped after the capture of Cossimbazar to the French Factory. His wife Mrs. Margaret Batson is mentioned in Public Proceedings, 23rd February 1756, and again in Public Proceedings, 26th January 1757, but as the General Journal for February 1757 notes a bill of exchange being sent to her she was possibly not in Bengal at the time of the siege. This Batson was a man of very violent temper, and on one occasion he struck Warren Hastings in the face during a Council Meeting.
Beale, Mr.	(d), (k)	Diet allowance at Fulta for November. General Journal for November 1756. Possibly a relation of Mrs. Mapletoft. The Parish Register records the marriage of Mr. Joshua Beal to Mrs. Rebecca Seal on the 21st July 1740. A certain William Beal, Surgeon, died 28th August 1727.
Beard, Mrs. Elizabeth	(c), (g), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. The Fulta Lists say Mrs. Beard took refuge at Fulta. Possibly this was the widow of Charles Beard (son of President John Beard) who was buried 31st December 1747, but a Mr. Adam Beard, inhabitant, died 7th September 1760. The probability is that she was a widow, as a Mrs. Beard's house is marked on Lieutenant Wills' "Plan of Calcutta and the proposed new Fort."

Becher, Richard	(c), (e), (g), (h), (i)	See Public Proceedings, 4th and 29th December 1759. Arrived 2nd August 1743. Fourth of Council and Chief of Dacca. The Fulta Lists say that Mrs. Becher and child were made prisoners at Dacca. The Parish Register notes his marriage to Miss Charlot Golightly on the 29th November 1752, and on 3rd July 1754 the christening of Charlotte, daughter of Richard Becher and Charlotte, his wife. Mrs. Becher died 14th October 1759. Her pathetic epitaph may be read in the Bengal Obituary. Richard Becher died November 17th, 1782, in great poverty. (Bengal Obituary.)
Becher, Charlot	(g)	Wife of Richard Becher.
Becher, Charlotte	(g)	Daughter of Richard and Charlot Becher. Died at Fulta, 30th November 1756 (Bengal Obituary).
Bellamy, Rev. Gervas	(a), (c), (g), (f), (h)	Orme puts him amongst the sick and invalids. Senior Chaplain. Died in the Black Hole. Arrived in Calcutta (see Hyde) 22nd August 1726. He married Mrs. Dorothy Pomfret (who died at Fulta), 24th November 1729. By her he had the following children:—
Bellamy, Dorothy	...
Bellamy, Thomas	(g), (h), (f), (i)	(1) Thomas, christened, 13th October 1730, who shot himself before or during the siege of Calcutta. Cottoner, Public Proceedings, 10th March 1755. He was a Senior Merchant and Assistant in the Export Warehouse. Apparently he arrived 8th July 1742, when he was only twelve years old. Orme says he bore arms in the siege, and Mills that he shot himself on the wall.
Bellamy, William	...	(2) William, christened 29th October 1731.
Bellamy, Dorothy	(g)	(3) Dorothy, christened 12th October 1733. Married Captain William Lampert, probably at Fulta. Died 1st December 1757 (Hyde).

Bellamy, John	(f)	(4) John, christened 20th November 1735. Lieutenant at the time of the siege. Died in the Black Hole.
Bellamy, Gervas	(5) Gervas, christened 2nd February 1737. Died 18th May 1741.
Bellamy, Anna Martha	(6) Anna Martha, christened 18th November 1740. She married Captain Charles Palmer. Her son Charles Francis was baptized 10th September 1758. She was buried 25th September 1758.
Bellamy, Robert*	(7) Robert, christened 26th January 1742.
Belly, Sabenna	(c), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. The Parish Register records 7th March 1744, the christening of Michael, son of Samuel and Barbara Belly.
Bendal, Bendall, Bendol or Berdal.	(a), (g), (j), (k)	A sea-faring man, or lawyer (?) who died in the Black Hole. His christian name is possibly Joseph, as amongst the list of christenings is "Elizabeth, daughter of Joseph Bendall and Ann, his wife, inhabitant," 30th November 1749. Orme describes him as a merchant or other inhabitant.
Bentley, Elizabeth M. . . .	(c)	Claim on account of estate of. See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Bensey, John	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. He was some relation of Elizabeth M. Bensey, as in the latter instance his claim is on account of her estate.
Bento, Rev. Padre	(c), (f)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. The General Journal for February 1759.

* The Fulta Lists mention that Mrs. and Miss Bellamy took refuge at Fulta, that Mrs. Bellamy died before the lists were made out, and Miss Bellamy married. Thus they do not account for Anna Martha and Robert Bellamy. The General Journal for July 1736 mentions that Mrs. Bellamy received arrears of salary for the Rev. Gervas Bellamy, and for Thomas Bellamy. As regards Thomas Bellamy, the General Letter from Court, dated 11th February 1736, paragraph 87, forbids his promotion, but this letter did not reach Bengal till after the siege so it does not account for, though it suggests a reason for, his suicide if it was a suicide.

		mentions a Padre Bento de Sta. Monica. Is this the Padre Bento de Silvestre, an Augustinian Friar, who turned Protestant in 1760, and was appointed a Catechist in Mr. Kiermader's Mission? One of Orme's foreigners.
Bernard, Sergeant	(d)	Expenses at Chinsura paid. General Journal for September 1756, Military charges.
Best, Captain Thomas	(d), (e), (i), (f)	Captain of the Lively Ketch which escaped to Fulta. (List of vessels.) The Fulta Lists say he took refuge at Fulta and died there. He was paid for providing victuals to the refugees at Fulta (General Journal, June 1756), and is mentioned as the Commander of the Lively Grab (General Journal for August 1756). Orme says he was Captain of the Lively Ketch and was wounded in the attack on Tannah Fort before the siege.
Billers, William	(b), (e), (f), (g), (h), (j), (i)	Factor and Sub-Treasurer. Arrived 16th July 1749. He served as a volunteer and fled to Fulta. George Gray says he was one of those who fled on board the ships with Governor Drake. The Committee of Accounts for 1st June 1757 passed his bill for stores delivered into the Fort before the siege.
Binder, Mr.	(b)	Holwell (Letter, 17th July 1756) calls him a young gentleman volunteer, but the name is probably a misprint for Burdett.

NAMES.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Bishop, Lieutenant Richard	(a), (c), (e), (g), (f)	Holwell says he died in the Black Hole, but the Fulta Lists say that he was wounded in the fighting and died before the capture of the Fort. His name appears on the muster rolls for December 1752, and in Public Proceedings, 24th December 1753, he is promoted to Lieutenant.
Blackberry, Peter	(c), (l)	A soldier, who, according to the Parish Register, married Elizabeth, a country woman, 8th November 1755.
Blackford	(f)	Orme says he was a free merchant and amongst the sick and invalids.

Blagg, Ensign Thomas	(a), (b), (g), (f)	Promoted Lieutenant. Public Proceedings, 5th December 1753 (Hyde). According to Holwell he died in the Black Hole after having distinguished himself in the repulse of the Nawab at Perrins and by heading a sortie (Holwell's letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 42), but Mr. Lindsay and the Fulta Lists say he was cut to pieces on a bastion, refusing to surrender to the very last.
Blaney, Thomas	(c), (g), (f), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 29th December 1750. Orme calls him a joiner. The Fulta Lists say he was a glass grinder, and that he took refuge at Fulta . From the Parish Register it appears that by his wife Mary whom he married 4th September 1743 and who died 17th August 1747, he had two children, George, christened 15th December 1744 and died 19th February 1748, and Elizabeth, christened 4th September 1746. He died 8th May 1761.

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Blaney, Elizabeth	Daughter of Thomas Blaney. Ecclesiastical Records No. 506.
Blaney, Mary	Daughter of Thomas Blaney. Apparently older than Elizabeth.
Bleau, Jacob	(a), (b), (j)	Holwell says he died in the Black Hole. The Fulta Lists do not mention him. According to Hyde he was a Sergeant of Militia. Gray says he was a carpenter.
Boddam, Thomas	(c), (g), (h)	See Public Proceedings, 4th and 29th December 1759, and 31st January 1760. Senior merchant and Resident at Balasore or Balamungerry. Public Proceedings, 8th December 1755. Arrived 2nd August 1743. Came to Fulta under orders of the Council. In Public Proceedings 19th March 1759, he was appointed Major of Militia.
Bodle	(j)	A foreigner. In the Church at Chinsurah one of the Hatchments is inscribed. "J. A. Bodle, obit 15. Dec. 1774, aetat. 45."
Bodley, Mrs. Mary	(c), (h)	Claim on account of estate of, Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Apparently the widow of Mr. Anthony Bodily, who married Mrs. Mary Parsons, 2nd May 1737, and died 3rd August 1738.
Boirs, John	(j)	Survived the Black Hole.
Bostick, Mary	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. Widow of Benjamin Bostick, Sergeant. Ecclesiastical Records No. 219.
Bourdett, or Burdett, John	(b), (g), (h), (j)	Writer and Assistant in the Accountant's Office. Arrived 4th August 1755. Volunteer. Sent with Holwell as a captive to Muzadavad after the Black Hole. Praised and granted two years' service for his conduct by the Court of Directors. General Letter from Court, 11th November 1757, paragraph 55. One of Clive's opponents in Council in 1765. He was dismissed and sent home. See Glitz , Caps. 20 and 21.

Bragom, Mariasah	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
Bristow, Mr. John	(b), (c), (k)	The Parish Register shows he was in Calcutta as early as 18th August 1750, when he married Elizabeth Mackey, and from Public Proceedings, 28th April 1757, it appears that he was at Balasore before 1756, as Surgeon to the family of Mirza Sallee. Holwell , in his letter to Court, dated 30th November 1756, paragraph 17, says he managed to hold on at Bauramgurry (a kind of sea-side residence of the Balasore Factory), after Boddam had escaped to Fulta. In 1757 he was appointed the Company's Resident at Cuttack. It was determined to recall him from this post in 1758 (Public Proceedings, 3rd July 1758), and he appears to have died 2nd December 1761.
Broadbrook, Mrs. Elinor	(c), (e), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 1st May 1760. She submitted to the Committee of Accounts a bill for diet money whilst at Fulta (6th July 1757), but she is not mentioned in the Fulta lists. This lady's name is variously spelled as Helena, Halina and Elinor. The Parish Register records, 7th August 1727, a marriage between Captain James Broadbrook and Mrs. Elinor Willowbuss, and the christening of the children:—Susanna, on 2nd February 1729 (died 13th January 1735), Ann, on 21st February 1731 (died 5th January 1735), James, on 5th May 1737. John, on 15th July, 1738. There is no further mention of James and John, but a certain Mr. Broadbrook is mentioned as drawing diet money in the General Journal for December 1756, and one John Broadbrook,

Names.	Authorities.	Remarks.
Calester, Joan	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
Caley	(j)	Sea-faring man.
Camp, Hand (?)	(c), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Probably a foreigner. A certain Rowland Camp, a soldier, is mentioned in the Parish Register as dying 19th September 1732.
Campbell, Captain Collin	(b), (d), (e), (g), (j)	Captain of the Fortune Ketch, which ship was lost. (List of vessels). Served as a volunteer, and after assisting with his ship at the defence of Perrins fled to Fulta. The General Journal for July 1756 describes him as Captain of the Sea-horse sloop, and the same for June mentions payments to him for victualling the refugees and for stores sent into the Fort. The General Journal for March 1757 mentions a payment for feeding the ladies on the Dragon sloop.
Campbell, Alexander	See Buckle's Bengal Artillery, page 6, note.
Campman, Peter	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Canty. See Cauty.
Carey, Peter	(a), (b), (g), (j), (k)	A sea-faring man. Holwell says he died in the Black Hole, but the Fulta Lists say he was killed in the fighting. The Parish Register says that on the 15th January 1754 Peter Carey, Mariner, married Mary, a country woman.
Carey, Mrs. Mary	(a), (g)	Escaped alive from the Black Hole. Her subsequent fate is uncertain, as some say she was carried off by the Nawab's people. She died, according to the East Indian Chronologist in 1800.
Carey, Robert	(l)	Died in the Black Hole.
Carey, Miss	(g)	Took refuge at Fulta. Possibly a sister of Peter. The Parish Register records the death of Ann Carey, inhabitant, on the 27th July 1746.

NAMES.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Carse, John	(a), (g), (h), (i)	Factor and Assistant in the Cutchery. Arrived 25th September 1750. Volunteer. Died in the Black Hole according to Holwell , but according to the Fulta Lists he was cut to pieces, having rashly fired a pistol after the Fort was taken.
Carstairs, Ensign Peter	(a), (b), (c), (d), (g), (i)	Claim on account of, Public Proceedings, 1st May 1760. Orme says he got his commission on the 18th June and took part in the fighting. From Holwell's letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 36, it would appear that he was in the Black Hole. In his list appended to his letter of 3rd August Holwell says he was wounded at the Jail. The Fulta Lists say he was at Fulta and wounded. Broome in one place (page 58) says he went through the siege and in another (page 72) that he came from Balasore. In 1756 he was an Ensign, and was promoted Captain Lieutenant in 1757 (Return of Troops under Colonel Clive, 13th January 1757). Wounded (Public Proceedings, 22nd February 1757). He voted for immediate action before Plassey. Captain (Public Proceedings, 3rd October 1757). Resigned 31st August 1758. Re-admitted 13th October 1760. Went to siege of Pondicherry, Public Proceedings, 17th November 1760. Commanded detachment at Patna, which was cut to pieces by Mir Kasim. He was captured and died of a broken heart at Hajipur, October 1763. According to Mr. Peter Campbell's account, he was mortally wounded on the 1st July, and died at Hajipur 3rd July, his wounds having mortified. In his Will (Ecclesiastical Records No. 695) he mentions his only brother James, and his uncle Alexander Wedderburn of St. Germaine near Edinburgh and his aunt Mrs. Elizabeth Wedderburn.
Cartier, John	(c), (e), (g), (h)	See Public Proceedings, 10th January 1757 and 29th December 1759. Factor and an Assistant at Dacca. Arrived 25th September 1750. Captured at Dacca. Served as a Volunteer

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Cockylane, Mons.	(g), (f)	Captain of the Elizabeth Schooner, which ship was lost. (List of vessels.) Volunteer. Took refuge at Fulta. A French sea-faring gentleman. Probably the foreigner Coquilin whom Orme puts in the list of those who were killed or otherwise lost their lives.
Cokane, Mrs. Ann	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Probably the same as Mrs. Cocklane.
Coker or Cocker	(g), (f), (i)	A sea-faring man (?). Died in the Black Hole according to Mills and the Fulta Lists. See Caulker. Free Merchant or other inhabitant according to Orme.
Cole (or Coles) Peter	(c), (g), (f)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, and 3rd March 1760. The Fulta Lists say a carpenter named Cole took refuge at Fulta. The Parish Register (10th July 1755) records the marriage of Peter Coles, inhabitant, with Grace Coatsworth, widow. In his Will (Ecclesiastical Records, No. 605) Peter Cole, carpenter, calls his wife Gracy.
Cole, Christopher	(f)	Orme calls him a Free Merchant and says he was among the sick and invalids. Ecclesiastical Records No. 222.
Colebrook, John	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, and 1st May 1760.
Coles, Thomas	(a), (b), (g), (h), (i), (f)	Senior Merchant, Register of Dusticks and Collector of Consulage. Arrived in Bengal 25th November 1744. Orme and the Fulta Lists say he was an Ensign of Militia and was wounded after Drake's desertion. Died in the Black Hole. The Lists of Company's Servants call him Thomas Coates.
Coles, Mrs. Frances	(b), (g)	The Fulta Lists say she took refuge at Fulta with one child. Holwell mentions that she embarked on the Diligence , (Letter to Council, 25th October 1759.)

Names.	Authorities.	Remarks.
Coles, Frances	(g)	Daughter of Thomas Coales and Frances, his wife, christened 12th November 1755.
Collet, Matthew	(g), (h), (i)	Arrived in Bengal 30th August 1740. Seventh of Council and Second at Cossimbazar, where he was taken prisoner, and brought to Hugli and released. He had the disagreeable task of delivering up Cossimbazar Factory to the Moors.
Collings, Captain Michael	(g), (j), (l)	Sea-captain. (Will dated 9th June 1756. Ecclesiastical Records, No. 31.) Drowned whilst attempting to escape after the capture of the Fort. Possibly some relation of Captain Lorenzo Collins of the St. George (General Letter to Court, 8th March 1759).
Comin(s), John	(i)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760.
Conlas, Dracco	(g)	Took refuge at Fulta. This name is very doubtful. In the London Chronicle, June 9th to 11th 1757, it is given as two names Dacco, Conlas.
Connor, Captain Peter	(c), (d), (e), (h)	See Public Proceedings, 1st May 1760. In charge of Company's sloop Sea-horse . Public Proceedings, 14th October 1754. Letter appended. The Fulta Lists say he took refuge at Fulta, and the General Journal for June 1756 says he was paid for providing victuals at Fulta, and also wages as a Pilot or Seaman. From Public Proceedings, 1st August 1757, it appears he became a Pilot. On the 9th October 1750 Peter Conner, Mariner, married Ann Cahill, Inhabitant.
Campman, Peter	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Probably same as Campman.

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Cooke, John [*]	(a), (b), (c), (g), (h), (f), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Senior Merchant and Secretary to the Board. Arrived 25th November 1744. Survived the Black Hole and went down to Fulta where he was seriously ill, but ultimately recovered (General Letter to Court, 31st January 1757, paragraph 37). On 18th January 1751 he had married Miss Sophia Jacobs. Praised for his behaviour by the Court of Directors. General Letter from Court, 11th November 1757, paragraph 54.
Cooke, Sophia	(d), (g)	The Fulta Lists say she took refuge at Fulta with one child.
Cooke, John	(g)	Child of John and Sophia Cooke. Born 3rd March 1756. (Christened April 4th 1757.) Mrs. Cooke had a second child (Charles) born 18th January 1757, and christened on the same day as John.
Cooke, Thomas	(c), (k)	See Letter of 5th October 1757, and Public Proceedings, 31st January 1760, and 3rd March 1760. On 20th April 1747 he married Miss Sarah Corsely Mason, who died 26th May 1749.
Coquelin. See Cockylane.
Cornelius, Captain	—	Captain of the Dragon Sloop, which ship escaped to Fulta. (List of Vessels.)
Cornelius, John	(c)	Claim on account of Dorothea Morris.
Cornelius, Juliana	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. Wife of Peter Cornelius. Ecclesiastical Records, No. 230.
Cosall, Philip	(i)	Survived the Black Hole.
Costelly, Martin	(c), (d), (e), (g), (j), (k)	Captain of the London Sloop, which ship was lost. (List of Vessels.) See Public Proceedings,

NAME	Authorities	REMARKS
		31st January 1760, and 3rd March 1760. Seafaring man. From the Parish Register it appears that on 8th February 1750 he married Anna, a country woman. After the recapture he made gunpowder for the Company. (Public Proceedings, 4th June 1759.) The Fulta Lists say he took refuge at Fulta.
Court, Richard	(a), (b), (g), (h), (i), (j)	Senior Merchant and Sub-Accountant. Arrived 2nd August 1743. He survived the Black Hole and was sent prisoner to Murshidabad with Holwell. He was drowned in the Hughli 7th May 1758. Orme says he was one of the Lieutenants of Militia.
Coverley (William)	(g), (j)	Jailor. Took refuge at Fulta. Orme puts him amongst those who were killed or otherwise lost their lives, so possibly this heading includes those who died at Fulta.
Coverley, Manona	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Possibly the same as Maria Coverley.
Coverley, Maria (or Mary)	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. Wife of William Coverley (Ecclesiastical Records, No. 33.)
Cozens	(g), (j)	Sea-faring man. Took refuge at Fulta. One Francis Cozens was made Lieutenant 8th April 1759. In his Will (Ecclesiastical Records, No. 694) dated 1st September 1763, he mentions a brother John and his father's sister who married a Mr. Cotton, and lived at Childerly House in Cambridgeshire.
Crome, Peter	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760.
Crutenden, Edward Holden	(c), (f), (g), (j), (k)	Ex-Company's servant. On 7th April 1746 he married Elizabeth Jedderie, and was appointed Colonel of Militia (Public Proceedings, 20th November 1752). Dismissed by order of Court, General Letter, 31st January 1755, para.

NAME.	Authorities	REMARKS.
		150. See Public Proceedings, 28th August 1755. Gray, Captain Mills, etc. , say he served in the Militia and took refuge at Fulta .
Cruttenden, Elizabeth . . .	(g)	Wife of E. H. Cruttenden. Took refuge at Fulta with three children. Mrs. Cruttenden died at Fulta .
Cruttenden, Elizabeth . . .	(g)	Daughter of E. H. Cruttenden. Christened 7th October 1752.
Cruttenden, Sarah . . .	(g)	Daughter of E. H. Cruttenden. Christened 9th April 1754.
Cruttenden (name unknown) . . .	(g)	Child of E. H. Cruttenden.
Crytbe, Christian . . .	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
Cudmore, Ensign John . . .	(c), (g), (k)	In command at Dacca . Made Lieutenant, Public Proceedings, 2nd November 1755. When the Dacca Factory surrendered he was imprisoned in the French Factory. In 1757 he was made Captain, and on the 31st August 1758 he resigned. According to the Parish Register he had a daughter, Elizabeth, born in 1756, but it is not said what became of her, nor is there any mention of his marriage.
Cuppo(c), Frederick . . .	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, 3rd March and 1st May 1760.
Curtis, John . . .	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. See Thoribee Baptist .
Cushion, Rosia . . .	(c), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, and 1st May 1760. The Parish Register (17th December 1750) records the marriage of James Cushion, seaman, with Roza, a countrywoman, and the General Journal for July 1756 notes payment of the wages of James Cushion, Pilot. Possibly James Cushion was on pilot duty during the siege.

D'Almeida, Anthony	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
D'Almeida, Joseph	(c)	In Public Proceedings, 12th September 1757. Captain Joseph D'Almeida demanded reimbursement for the ammunition taken from his ship by the Moors during the Troubles and for the ransom he had to pay for the ship itself. He was not a British subject.
De, Peter	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 1st May 1760.
Dean, Richard	(c), (d), (e), (j), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Pilot and uncovenanted Company's servant. Probably a widower as the Parish Register (19th February 1753) records the marriage of Richard Dean, Mariner, with Catharina Sheldrake. Pilot, Letter appended to Public Proceedings, 1st August 1757.
Dean, Roger	(d)	The General Journal for June 1756 notes payment to Roger Dean, mate, for supply of lascars. This does not prove that he was in Calcutta at the time of the Troubles, but he must have been in the River.

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
De La Mar	(d), (e)	Allowed diet money at Fulta. See General Journal for December 1756. In Public Proceedings, 25th July 1757, one Mr. Delamere, Volunteer, asks for employment as he cannot return to his own colours. This is possibly the Frenchman (born in England) who was promised a commission by Major Adams for his good behaviour at Oodanulla, and who, on being disappointed of this by the death of his patron, headed the revolt of the European soldiery in 1764.
De Lasonde, Monsr.	(c), (e)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Probably Monsr Lascod, Supercargo of the Saint Anne in 1755. See Letter appended to Public Proceedings, 17th April 1758 (No. 2). See Lasonde.
De Long, Anthony	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
De Montague, Monsr.	(c), (d)	See General Journal for December 1756, for payment of diet money at Fulta, and Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
De Pisco, Ant.	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Derdeyn	(d)	Diet money for December 1756. (General Journal, December 1756.) Mr. John Derdeyn, Ensign, resigned his commission. Public Proceedings, 24th October 1757. Letter appended.
Derickson, Mary	(d), (e), (k)	Was the wife of a Sergeant Derickson, and the General Journal for June 1756 notes a grant for her support. Probably she was the widow of Lawrence Derrixon, invalid, who died, 6th February 1755, and possibly the mother of two children, John, and Alexander, who died before the siege. She seems to have attached herself to the wife of poor Ensign Piccard, who died in the Black Hole. Later on she applied for a pension. Public Proceedings, 26th April 1757.

De Son, Peter	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
De Vass, Christopher	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
Dickson or Dixon, Captain Alexander.	(a), (b), (d), (e), (f)	Captain of the Prince Edward which ship was lost. (List of Vessels.) Holwell , Letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 48, tells us he survived the Black Hole and was in command of the Lively Crab. (See also Public Proceedings, 14th February 1757, where his bill for the Lively Ketch is paid.) The Fulta Lists do not mention him, but Holwell says he went to Chandernagore. Praised for his conduct by the Court of Directors. General Letter from Court, 11th November 1757, paragraph 60.
Dickson, Captain Peter	(c), (e)	See Public Proceedings, 31st January 1760. Appointed Captain of the Phoenix , Public Proceedings, 19th February 1757. In Minutes of Committee of Accounts, 18th May 1757, there is mention of a Bill sent in by him for stores delivered into the Fort before the siege.
Dodd, John	(a), (b), (g), (h), (f)	Assistant in the Export Warehouse. Writer. Arrived 4th August 1755. Volunteer. Took part in Lieutenant Blagg's sortie. Died in the Black Hole. His mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dod, is mentioned in General Letter from Court, dated 3rd March 1758, para. 65.
Dogan, Captain William	(d), (k)	Bill for provisions paid, General Journal for August 1756. He had a daughter Mary, born 10th January 1753. In a letter from the Council at Fulta to Madras, dated 13th September 1756, it is stated that he left Bengal with his sloop in the month of May.
Dogle, Henrietta	(v)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Probably widow of John Dougall, as the Parish Register records, 29th April 1741, the marriage of John Dougall to Henrietta Spore, and the birth of a daughter Phanny (sic), 10th August 1744.

Dollars, James	(e)	Claim on account of Robert Millers. Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
Domingo, James	(d)	Bill for biscuits at Fulta. General Journal for November 1756.
Douglas, Captain Charles	(b), (c), (e), (g), (i), (j)	See Public Proceedings, 31st January 1760. Sea-Captain. Holwell and Orme say he was an Ensign of Militia and went on board with Drake. On 10th September 1751, he married Mrs. Jane Goring, widow. Holwell (Letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 30) says he was an Ensign in the Militia and went on board when off duty, though in his earlier letter of 17th July 1756 he accuses him of desertion. Submitted a Bill for Stores delivered in before the siege. Committee of Accounts, 18th May 1757. Orme says he was a Free Merchant. Mrs. Douglas was buried 8th November 1755, but possibly her daughter Helen was alive.
Douglas, Helen	(k)	Daughter of Charles and Jane Douglass, christened 2nd September 1755.
Downes, Mr. Peter	(e)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760.
Downey	(d)	Sea-faring man.
Downing, George	(d), (e), (k)	Pilot. Diet allowance for October. General Journal, November 1756. On the 13th August 1754, he had married Elizabeth Lewis. His name is attached to the petition of the Pilots (Public Proceedings, 1st August 1757).
Downing, John	(k)	A sloopman. Married Mary, a country woman, 14th July 1755, died 17th February 1759.

Drake, Roger	(a), (b), (c), (e), (f), (g), (h), (j), (k)	Blagg (Holwell , Letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 42). Died in the Black Hole. See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. President and Governor † (8th August 1752—20th June 1758) and Cash-keeper. He arrived in Bengal 26th May 1737. Drake's desertion of the Fort led to Holwell's being chosen to the command. Drake escaped in the last boat that left the Fort. Lindsay in his account says it was fired on from the time it left the shore till he got on board the Dodanoy , but he does not say who fired on it. Mr. Tooke implies it was some of the men whom he had deserted, his words being:—"Upon the Governor's going off, several muskets were fired at him, but none were lucky enough to take place." Drake married Mrs. Mary Coates,* 10th January 1743. She must have been a relation of John Coles (who died in the Black Hole) as he left Rs. 52,000 to Roger Drake's children, Millicent, Roger, Richard and Nathaniel. (See Public Proceedings, 12th September 1757). Millicent was christened, 21st November 1749. Two others, Mary, christened 9th June 1744, and Charlotte, christened 12th February 1747, were dead. The Parish Register records the death of Mrs. Mary Drake, wife of Roger Drake, 6th October 1749. Drake was relieved of his Governorship by the Letter from Court dated 13th November 1757.
Drake, Mrs. Martha ‡	(e), (g)	Apparently second wife of Roger Drake as the Parish Register contains no mention of the births of Roger, Richard and

* Or Mary Coates, daughter of Thomas Coates, Factor, and Mary, his wife, born and baptised 18th December 1721.

† Mr. Tooke says that the Court of Directors never confirmed Mr. Drake as Governor, and that his position was much impaired by his connection († marriage) with his sister († sister-in-law). See note on Mrs. Drake.

‡ Martha, daughter of Mr. Thomas Coates, Jun or Merchant and Mary his wife, born 20th September, 1724. Coates and Coates are of course the same name.

		Nathaniel, sons of Roger Drake, Junior, to whom John Coles' bequest of Rs. 26,000 to Martha Drake (Public Proceedings, 12th September 1757) came on the death of that lady. The Parish Register does not record the marriage. According to the Fulta Lists she took refuge at Fulta with two children, but there is nothing to shew who these were unless possibly Millicent and another of her own.
Drake (Millicent)	(g)	Daughter of Roger and Mary Drake. Christened 21st November 1749.
Drake (name unknown)	(g)	Child of Roger Drake, Junior.
Driver, Mrs. Margaret	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Driedale, Alexander	(d)	Received diet money at Fulta for November and December 1756, is mentioned as a Volunteer in the General Journal for March 1757, and as receiving payment for a bill in March 1761.
Duart Toao (P)	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.

Dumbleton, William Roger Anthony.	(g)	Christened 12th March 1752. Son of William and Elizabeth Dumbleton.
Dumbleton, Jonathan Baldrick	(g)	Christened 14th November 1754. Son of William and Elizabeth Dumbleton.
Duncan, Captain Peter	(e), (d), (e), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 31st January and 3rd March 1760. Sea-captain. Apparently in command of the Sweep Sally , at the time of the Troubles as (See Minutes of Committee of Accounts, 30th August 1757) he presented a bill for salt thrown overboard to make room for the fugitives. The General Journal for June and July 1756 shows payment for costs of victualling at Fulta. He died 15th September 1760.
Duncan, Mrs. Sophia	(g), (k)	The Parish Register, 22nd February 1755, records the marriage of Mr. Peter Duncan, Mariner and Mrs. Sophia Holland, widow. The Fulta Lists say she took refuge at Fulta. She died 20th September 1760, and is described as wife of Captain Peter Duncan.
Dundas, Captain George	(d), (e), (f)	Sea-faring man. Commander of the Dragon Sloop at Fulta. (See Minutes of Committee of Accounts, 6th July 1757.) He seems to have commanded other sloops at different times. Diet money for November and December. (General Journal, December 1756.)

		John Elliott, as in Public Proceedings, 1st May 1760, he makes a claim on account of his estate. Orme says Lieutenant Elliott's son served under his father at Cossimbazar as a Volunteer.
Ellis, William	(b), (c), (f), (g), (h), (i)	Factor and Assistant in Military Store-keeper's office. Arrived Calcutta 16th July 1749. Served as a Volunteer and took part in Lieutenant Blagg's sortie. He fled to Fulta. He was given a commission in Clive's force and lost his leg in the skirmish of the 5th February 1757 (General Letter to Court, 10th April 1757, paragraph 7). In consequence he got a Captain's Commission (Public Proceedings, 3rd November 1757), but had to go to England, was praised for his conduct by the Court of Directors, General Letter from Court, 11th November 1757, paragraph 54. He came out again as a Member of Council (General Letter from Court, 23rd November 1759, paragraph 48), and lost his life in the war with Mir Kasim, being massacred at Patna.
Elvis or Elves, William . . .	(b), (j)	Sea-faring man. Served in the Militia and fled with Drake. † William Alves, p. v.
Empson, John	(k)	The Parish Register records the christening of Charles, son of John Empson, seaman, and Anna, his wife, 5th August 1755. Appointed Master (Pilot), Public Proceedings, 15th April 1754. Letter appended.

Holland, Mrs. Mary . . .	(e), (g), (k)	Took refuge at Fulta. She was the wife of Mr. William Holland, Commander of a country vessel, and died 8th March 1758.
Holland, Captain William . . .	(k)	Captain of a country vessel. Died 1st September 1759. Husband of Mrs. Mary Holland. Possibly not in the River at the time of the siege.
Holland, Mrs. Sophia . . .	(g), (k)	There is some confusion about this lady. The Fulta Lists say she was the widow of Major Holland and the Parish Register tells us, 7th December 1750, of the birth of twin sons to John Holland, Major, and Sophia his wife. Major Holland died 25th August 1751, and on 22nd February 1755 Captain Peter Duncan married Mrs. Sophia Holland, widow. If these two ladies are the same, then as Captain Duncan was alive till 15th September 1760 Mrs. Duncan must have preferred to keep her old name and her first husband's rank. Mrs. Sophia Holland died 20th September 1760.

Was Zemindar and 8th in Council at time of the Troubles. He was also Captain of the Militia and conducted the defence after the flight of Drake and Minchin, survived the Black Hole, was taken a prisoner to Murshidabad, released and joined the Council at Fulta. Went home by the Syren sloop in February 1757 after the recapture of Calcutta. Returned to India in 1758, succeeded Clive, 28th January 1760, as pro tempore Governor till the arrival of Vansittart on 27th July. Knox, John (1)	(c), (e), (g), (f), (h), (i)	It is impossible to distinguish between these three persons, though one is described as Senior , another as Junior , and the third as Pahra , probably a mistake for Patna. John Knox, Senior, appears to be the Dr. Knox who was appointed Assistant Surgeon, 11th March 1754, and Supernumerary at the Hospital, Public Proceedings, 20th September 1755. He stayed in the Fort till its capture and then escaped to Fulta. On the 18th May 1757 he presented a bill for arms delivered into the Fort before the siege. He was buried 6th February 1758. In his Will, dated 1st February 1758. (Ecclesiastical Records, No. 274) he describes himself as formerly of Patna and now of Calcutta and as a Surgeon, says he has only two children, Elizabeth and Mary, and that he is the son of the late Rev. William Knox, Minister of the Parish of Duissey, and his wife Elizabeth, and that his brother Harry Knox is a merchant of Dunbar. The fact of his having served in Patna makes it uncertain whether he is not the same as Patna John Knox. Captain Mills tells us that two Dr. Noxes (i.e. Knoxes) escaped from the Fort, and in the

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
		Account Sale of Madeira, 21st November 1757, the name Dr. Knox occurs twice, once with the word Senior appended. There is also a John Knox, Senior, who was appointed Company's Cooper, Public Proceedings, 29th January 1757, and is evidently a sea-faring man. A certain John Knox received payment for the damages suffered by his sloop in the engagement off Perrins (General Journal, August 1756) and a John Knox is mentioned as Captain of the Norwood , General Journal, March 1757). Again Orme mentions a John Knox, Junior, amongst the free merchants and other inhabitants, who is an uncovenanted Company's servant. This seems self-contradictory. Lastly a certain John Knox (Ecclesiastical Records, No. 36) in his Will dated 2nd March 1756, bequeaths property to his sister Margaret Knox of London and Elizabeth, daughter of John Knox, Senior, deceased. It is evident that these Knoxes were not brothers, nor does it seem likely that any one was the son of either of the remaining two. Possibly they were cousins.
Knox, Mrs. Elizabeth . . .	(g)	The Fulm Lists say she took refuge at Fulm with two children.

Le Beaume*	(b), (c), (e), (g), (f) (i)	A Frenchman, who took service with the English. His Christian name was either Melchior or Ralph. He was a Volunteer and Lieutenant of Militia at the time of the siege, and was wounded in the fighting at the Jail. Holwell sent him on board the Diligence to escort Mrs. Drake and other ladies, and so he escaped to Futta. From thence he was sent to Madras with Mr. Manningham to announce the fall of Calcutta. In 1757 he was made Captain, and in Public Proceedings, 21st April 1757, he petitioned the Council for leave to go to England to complain of unjust dismissal by Clive. Apparently this matter was settled in his favour, as he was present at the Council of War before Plassey, and voted against immediate action.
Lemmon	(j)	Sea-faring man. Possibly Robert Lamming. Mariner. Ecclesiastical Records, No. 279.
Leirs, Captain Thomas	(b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (j)	Captain of the Swallow which ship was lost. (List of Vessels.) See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Sea-captain. Volunteer. Mr. Cooke in his account says he was sent to bring the St. George down. Committee of Accounts, 18th May 1757, mentions his Bill for stores delivered into the Fort. Lieutenant in the list of 28th February 1757. First Lieutenant in Public Proceedings, 7th April 1757, and Captain-Lieutenant in the Artillery, Public Proceedings, 3rd October 1757. Captain Mills says he escaped during the confusion when the Fort was captured, and Orme says he was appointed Master Attendant after Drake's desertion.
Lewis, Dr.	(i)	Escaped during the confusion after the capture of the Fort. There is probably some mistake in the name, as no Doctor of this name is mentioned elsewhere.

* "A French officer at Chandernagore, who was confined there for taking a drubbing from another officer, and made his escape in disguise to Calcutta." William Tooke. Captain Grant says he left the French service "on a point of honour."

He was in Calcutta at the time of the siege and in the Militia, but being ill could not take part in the defence and so was permitted to remain on board when he was sent to Messrs. Manningham and Frankland with a message. He left a detailed account of the siege in a letter to Robert Orme . He died at Fulta of fever (General Letter to Court, 31st January 1757).
Ling, or Lyng, William	(b), (c), (f), (g), (k), (i)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, and 3rd March 1760. Holwell says he was in the Militia. The Fulta Lists say he was a musician, and that he took refuge at Fulta. On 24th February 1754 a certain William Lyng, inhabitant, married Frances or Francisca, a country woman. Orme calls him a fiddler and an uncovenanted Company's servant.

Macpherson, Daniel	(f)	Volunteer. A foreigner. Killed or died.
Macpherson, James (1) . . .	(c), (g), (f)	He was the Company's Cooper, and fled to Fulta, where probably he died, as in Public Proceedings, 29th January 1757. Mr. John Knox was appointed in his place. Orme says he was a free merchant or other inhabitant, and places him amongst the sick and invalids.
Macpherson, James (2) . . .	(g)	Sea-faring man. Holwell does not mention him, unless this is the Macpherson who took part in Lieutenant Blagg's sortie (Letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 42). The Fulta Lists say he was killed in the fighting. Possibly there was only one James Macpherson.

		Register of the Mayor's Court, 24th October 1758, and later on Notary Public. Ecclesiastical Records, No. 383.
Male, Mr.	(d)	Diet allowance at Fulta for October. General Journal, November 1756.
Manningham, Charles	(b), (c), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Third of Council and Export Warehouse-keeper. Arrived 5th October 1750. Holwell (Letter to Court, 30th November 1756) says he went on board the Dodaly under pretence of escorting the ladies. Orme says he was appointed Colonel of Militia at the beginning of the siege. His deputation to Madras to obtain assistance caused a great outcry amongst the refugees, who drew up a Remonstrance. He was so disgusted, says Lindsay , that he almost determined to leave the Company's service. Tooke says that, though he and Holwell were professed enemies in Council, they really played into each other's hands.
Manuel, Joseph Roderick	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Mapletoft, Rev. Robert	(d), (f), (g), (h), (j), (k), (l)	Chaplain, Captain-Lieutenant of Militia. Arrived 7th October 1750. On 31st March 1763 he married Mrs. Sarah Irwin, widow. She already had three children:—James, Sarah Gambier, and Eyles. Presumably they were not in Calcutta at the time. By her he had two children mentioned below. Mr. Mapletoft went on board when off duty (Holwell's Letter, 30th November 1756, paragraph 36), and died of fever at Fulta. (General Letter to Court, 31st January 1757, paragraph 14.) Possibly Mr. Mapletoft belonged to the old Huntingdonshire family of that name, which gave more than one distinguished member to the Church. See Dictionary of National Biography.

Minchin, Captain George	(b), (c), (d), (e), (g), (j), (k)	Letter from Court, 11th November 1757, paragraph 63. His pocket book, which he gave to Robert Orme, gives a short account of the siege. Arrived by the Somerast and appointed to a company according to orders of the Court (General Letter to Court, 11th February 1749, paragraph 16). Appointed Commander of the garrison vice Colonel Scott, deceased. Public Proceedings, 3rd June 1754. Applies for gunpowder contract, Public Proceedings, 17th June 1754. Arrests four or five young writers on what proves to be a false charge and has to apologise. Public Proceedings, 10th August 1754. Shares Drake's flight and is dismissed by the Council, Brooms , pages 62-72. He drew pay up to December 1756, and certain allowances in January 1757 (General Journal) and lingered on in Calcutta looking after his affairs till he died 5th January 1758.

The clerk who copied the letter into the Proceedings wrote below—"P. R. Pearkes was a poltroon." He next offered to bring down the Saint George and got on board, but the ship ran aground and he was captured, but being released escaped to Fulta. Captain Mills says he escaped during the confusion when the Fort was captured. On the 14th December 1751 he married Miss Adriana Cecilia Vereist, and some time in 1753 had a daughter Elizabeth, born at Dacca and christened when eleven months old in Calcutta, 3rd July 1754. He was appointed Captain of Milnia, Public Proceedings, 11th February 1759. By General Letter from Court, 3rd March 1758, paragraph 136, he was granted a gratuity of Rs. 1,000 per annum for his good behaviour.

Public Proceedings, 23rd April 1753. Orme (I. 363) mentions that with Maphuz Khan he captured Outramalour in 1754. The Madras Letter, 26th August 1755, gives him permission to return to Bengal to settle his private affairs. In June 1756, he commanded at Perrons' Redoubt, repulsed the first attack, made a night sortie, and spiked four of the enemy's guns. Being recalled to the Fort, he was wounded in the fighting, and died in the Black Hole. The Fulta Lists say he was wounded and died before the Fort was taken. Orme says he was wounded after Drake's desertion.
Piccard, Mrs.	(d), (e)	The General Journal of June 1756 says a small pension was granted to this poor lady at Fulta, and in Public Proceedings, 28th April 1757, is a letter saying she was dead and asking that the pension might be continued to her family.

Sims, Robert	(j)	Footman. Volunteer.
Simson, Lieutenant Collin	(a), (b), (f), (g), (i), (j)	Lieutenant. Public Proceedings, 29th September 1755. Wounded in the fighting and died in the Black Hole. Orme says he was one of the two Engineers.
Siths, Francis	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Smith, Mrs.	(c), (g)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Took refuge at Fulm. Possibly Mrs. Anne Smith.
Smith, Mrs. Ann	(c)	Account William Burton, see Public Proceedings, 31st January 1760.
Smith, Charles	(b), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j)	Writer and Assistant in the Store-keeper's Office, arrived 25th July 1753. Volunteer. He was killed in the sortie under Lieutenant Blagg (Holwell, Letter to Court, 30th November 1756, paragraph 42), after killing 4 or 5 of the enemy. Gray says he was killed by the fire from the Church.
Smith, Culling	(e)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. There is some confusion about this officer. In the List of Company's Servants for 1756, he is not mentioned, but in that of the 29th January 1757, he is given as Assistant Buxer and as having arrived 16th July 1749. Possibly he was away from Calcutta at the time of the Troubles, but returned immediately after. He was Ensign in the Patriot Band. See note on William Rider.

Smith, Captain John	(c), (d), (e), (g), (f), (k), (i)	Register records (10th December 1751) the marriage of James Smith, Mariner, and Isabella de Resana, a country woman. See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 31st January 1760. Sea-faring man and Pilot, see Public Proceedings, 15th April 1754. Vicinall charges, General Journal, October 1756. Apparently he had been Pilot a long time as he was then sent temporarily (?) to the Coast. Pilot. See Public Proceedings, 1st August 1757. Deputy Master Attendant. See Public Proceedings, 20th December 1757. From General Letter to Court, 23rd February 1757, paragraph 15, it appears he was then Deputy Master Attendant. The Parish Register records, 17th November 1746, the marriage of John Smith, Pilot, and Eleanor Mann. Apparently he married again a lady of the name of Mary (Parish Register, 16th December 1749). He fled to Fulta, and the General Journal for November 1757, mentions the grant of diet allowance.*
Smith, Mrs. (Maria)	(c), (g), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. Took refuge at Fulta. Wife of John Smith.
Smith, Captain-Lieut. Peter	(b), (c), (f), (g), (j), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Was made Lieutenant, Public Proceedings, 31st May 1753. The Fulta lists and Holwell say he was killed by a shot on one of the bastions. Gray adds by the fire from the Church. Not much seems known of this officer, but the Parish Register (4th July 1746) mentions a certain Peter Smith, Sergeant, and Elizabeth his wife. Was he a ranker?
Smith, Thomas	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.

* NOTE.—In the petition of 1st August 1757 we have a list of the pilots in Calcutta at that time. Their names are:—John Smith; Alexander Scott; Peter Connor; Richard Dean; John Cheworth; Francis Snaker; Archibald McLaughlin; John Tole; George Downing; Edward Whatmough.

		July 1756, was ordered on board the ship some days before the Fort was taken. This seems unlikely as he was one of the Lieutenants of the Militia. Holwell (Letter to Court 13th November 1756, paragraph 24) modifies his earlier statement of his having deserted by saying he went on board when off duty. Gray and the Fort's Lists simply say he deserted. Orme says he was a Lieutenant of Militia and went on board on the 18th.
Surman	(f)	Carpenter. Orme says he was killed or died.
Swaine, Captain Thomas	(c), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 31st January and 1st May 1760. Of Chichester, Ecclesiastical Records, No. 31. The Parish Register records, 30th September 1752, the marriage of Thomas Swaine, Mariner, and Martha Collins, and the christening, 25th February 1755, of Mary, daughter of Captain Thomas and Martha Swaine. After Captain Swaine's death his widow married Captain Thomas Gibson, 25th October 1764.
Swaine, Martha	---	Wife of Captain Thomas Swaine (Ecclesiastical Records, No. 31).
Swaine, Mary	---	Daughter of Thomas and Martha Swaine, Ecclesiastical Records, No. 31.
Swallow, Captain William	(c), (e)	See Public Proceedings, 29th December 1759. Employed under Captain Robert Barker to survey the Great Lake (now known as the Salt Lake). Public Proceedings, 4th August 1757. Brother of Mrs. Margaret Warwick, p. v.
Swift, John	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Sykes, Francis	(b), (e), (A), (f)	Writer and Assistant at Cossimbazar. Arrived 9th July 1751. He escaped after its capture to the French Factory (Holwell , 30th November 1756, paragraph 16). He returned to England and entered Parliament. Mr Sykes was one of the few friends Clive had amongst the Company's servants in Bengal.

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Walter(s), Hendrick . . .	(d), (e)	Was a Pilot in 1754. See Public Proceedings, 13th July 1754. Letter appended. Apparently connected with the Bonetta Sloop, General Journal, June 1756. Wages paid, General Journal, July 1756. He was dismissed by the Council for the wreck of a Prussian Ship in August 1756. (Letter from Council Chandernagore to Council Masulipatam, 29th August 1756.) In Public Proceedings, 17th January 1757, the Master Attendant Henry Wedderburn proposed his re-employment which was conditionally sanctioned.
Ward, Captain Charles . . .	(e), (i)	Pilot and Captain of the Calcutta Sloop, which ship was lost. (List of vessels.) (A certain Captain Charles Ward married Mrs. Mary Dean, 4th October 1726, and had a son Charles, 12th October 1732. This Captain Ward died 13th October 1743.) Appointed Master (Pilot) Public Proceedings, 15th April 1754. Letter appended. Claims compensation for losses at the capture of Calcutta. Public Proceedings, 10th January 1757.
Warner, Captain Thomas . . .	(d)	Payment for victualling at Fulta. General Journal, June, July and August 1756. Bill for feeding ladies on the Speedwell . General Journal, March 1757.
Warren, Hendrick	(k)	In the Train, married Rosa, a country woman, 19th February 1755.
Warwick, Mrs. Margaret . . .	(d), (g), (i)	Made prisoner at Dacca. Diet money for September and December. General Journal, December 1756. The Parish Register (19th December 1734), records the marriage of Thomas Warwick, Mariner, with Margaret Dipping. (Margaret Morphey married and January 1734 Anthony Dipping, Surgeon, who died 22nd June 1734.) Mrs. Margaret Warwick died 11th January 1759. She was the sister of Mr. William Swallow. Names.	Authorities.	Remarks.
Watts, The Worshipful Mr. William.	(b), (c), (g), (h), (i)	Arrived 26th May 1737. Second of Council and Chief at Cossimbazar where he was made prisoner. On his release he took refuge at Chandernagore and entered into an acrimonious correspondence with the Council at Fulta. Siraj-ud-daula thought him a weak, simple person and was fond of him, so that on his return to Cossimbazar he found it easy to hoodwink the Nawab during the intrigues which preceded Plassey. He married Mrs. Frances Altham, widow, 24th November 1749. This lady was captured at Cossimbazar and allowed to stay in the French Factory with her three children. Mrs. Watts' first(?) husband was a Mr. Templer. On his death she married Mr. James Altham, 2nd November 1748, and on his death Mr. William Watts. Mr. Watts, in accordance with the order contained in the General Letter from Court, dated 13th November 1757, accepted the office of President on the 22nd June 1758 under protest, receiving charge from Mr. Roger Drake Junior. On the 26th June he made over charge to Colonel Clive. See Public Proceedings of those dates.
Watts, Mrs. Frances	(c), (g)
Watts, Amelia	Daughter of William and Frances Watts, christened 22nd December 1750.
Watts, Edward	Son of William and Frances Watts, christened 25th November 1752.
Watts, Sophia	Daughter of William and Frances Watts, christened 25th January 1755.
Watts, Hugh	(b), (g), (h), (i)	Writer and Assistant at Cossimbazar, arrived 25th July 1753. Imprisoned after the capture of Cossimbazar, but permitted to go to the French or Dutch Factory.
Wedderburn, Captain Henry .	(b), (c), (d), (g), (i), (j), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 29th December 1759 and 1st May 1760. Lieutenant of Militia. Went on board on the 18th. Fled to Fulta. He was afterwards Master Attendant, and died 17th November 1777 (Bengal Obituary).

Names.	Authorities.	Remarks.
		Holwell mentions that he was Lieutenant of Militia, and says in one place that he went on board when off duty and in another with a message to Messrs. Frankland and Manningham to return. Mr. Drake says he went on board with this message. Captain Rennie says he returned on shore after delivering it. The General Journal for June 1756 shows payment for victualling expenses.
Wedderburn, Mrs. Alice . . .	(b), (e), (g), (k)	Claim on account of Captain P. Carstairs. Public Proceedings, 1st May 1760. See Peter Carstairs: Embarked on board the Diligence with one child and took refuge at Fulta.
Wedderburn, Mary	Daughter of Captain Henry and Alice Wedderburn. Christened 27th June 1748. She married Lieutenant-Colonel John Cummings, 22nd January 1770.
Wedderburn, Charles	Son of Captain Henry and Alice Wedderburn, Christened 10th December 1753. Possibly died before the Fulta exodus.
Wedderburn, Ensign Charles . .	(a), (b), (f), (g)	Died in the Black Hole.
Weston, Charles . . .	(c), (k)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. The Bengal Obituary says he was born in Calcutta in 1731, but the Parish Register does not contain his name. Served in the Militia in 1756. Died 25th December 1809 [Bengal Obituary]. He was a friend of Holwell's and the inscription on his monument says "He manifested a grateful mind by cherishing in his old age his former employer and benefactor, the late Governor Holwell." Apparently he started life as a Surgeon, but found trade more lucrative. See Burton . He married Amelia de Rozario, 9th November 1758.
Whaley, Mrs. Ann . . .	(e)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760. Wife of Daniel Whaley.

Names.	Authorities.	Remarks.
Whaley, Daniel	(b), (f), (k), (l)	Married Ann Percival, 10th February 1754, and had a son Robert, christened 19th November 1755. Orme says he was a Butcher. (See also Ecclesiastical Records, No. 194.) In the Militia. Fled to Fulta.
Whatmore	(g), (j)	Captain of the Ann Snow , which ship was lost. (List of vessels.) Fled to Fulta. Possibly the same as Edmond Whatmough. Orme places him amongst Sea-Captains and officers.
Whatmough, Captain Edmond or Edward.	(b), (c), (d), (e)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760. Diet money for November and December. General Journal, December 1756. Pilot, Public Proceedings, 1st August 1757. In the Militia with his officers. Fled to Fulta.
Whitby	(g)	Sea-faring man (?). The Fulta Lists say he died in the attack.
White, Sergeant Gabriel	(c)	Claim on account of estate of. Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. See Roza England.
White, Maria	(c)	Account William White. Public Proceedings 4th December 1759 and 3rd March 1760.
White, William	(c)	Claim on account of estate of. Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759, and 3rd March 1760.
Whiteridge, John	(f)	Sea-faring man. In the Company's Marine Service at Calcutta. Ecclesiastical Records, No. 333.
Widdrington or Witherington, Captain John.	(c), (f)	Claim on account of estate of. Public Proceedings, 19th December 1759. He is mentioned as Captain John Witherington, Scavenger of Calcutta. Committee of Accounts, 17th January and Public Proceedings, 13th July 1759. Orme puts him among the sick and invalids. He was a Sea-Captain.
Wilgreen, Andrew	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759.
Wilkinson, Robert	(b), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j)	Writer and Assistant in the Cutcherry, arrived 7th June 1754. Volunteer. Killed in the sortie under Blagg, having advanced too far with Smith.

NAME.	Authorities.	REMARKS.
Wilkinson, Rosa	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Williamson, George	(d), (i)	Merchant. Asks for certificate of non-discharge of a bond in his name lodged in the Fort by the Revd. Mr. Mapleton before the siege, Public Proceedings, 6th June 1757. From a petition dated the 29th February 1760 it appears he lost some Bonds in the siege of Calcutta. A man of this name is on the list of Company's Servants for 1757, possibly the employment was temporary. A certain George Williamson married Mrs. Anne Jones, 13th June 1757, had a son George on the 4th October 1759, and died 26th March 1749.
Wills, Mr.	(d)	Diet money for November. General Journal, November 1756. Query Captain Edward Wills of the Elizabeth .
Wilson, (George)	(c), (j)	See Public Proceedings, 31st January 1760. Orme calls him a Tailor.
Wilson, (George)	(g)	Sea-faring man(?), died in the Black Hole. Not mentioned by Holwell . Possibly Captain George Wilson of the Kent (Public Proceedings, 20th January 1755).
Wilson, Dr. Nathaniel	(c), (g)	Promoted from Surgeon's Mate to be Surgeon of Dacca , Public Proceedings, 11th October 1753. Brown (page 73) says he acted as Surgeon to Killpatrick's force. He died either at Fulta or soon after the recapture of Calcutta. (Public Proceedings, 18th February 1757.) His brother-in-law George Johnson was Surgeon of His Majesty's ship Tyger .
Witherington, Captain Lawrence.	(a), (b), (f), (g), (i), (j), (k)	First Lieutenant of the Train. Public Proceedings, 2nd November 1755. In Public Proceedings, 27th November 1755, he is mentioned as Captain of the Artillery. A widower as the Parish Register records the christening of Charles, son of Captain L. Witherington and Hannah, his wife, 2nd September 1753. His wife died 14th September 1752, and his son

		Charles on the 29th October 1755. Died in the Black Hole. Orme calls him Captain of the Artillery.
Winter, John	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Winter, Captain Thomas	(d), (e)	Captain of the Delaware . Provided medicine, stores and bullocks for the ships at Fulta. Is first mentioned in the General Journal for September 1756, so possibly he came up from Madras.
Wood, Mrs. Ann	Wife of Lieutenant John Wood. See Buckle's Bengal Artillery, page 6, note.
Wood, John	(b), (d), (g), (e)	In the Militia. Took refuge at Fulta. Delivered stores into the Fort before the siege. (Committee of Accounts, 18th May 1757.) Supplied cattle at Fulta. General Journal, September 1756. Tooke mentions him as having been in Calcutta just before the siege.
Woodward, (John)	(d), (e)	Diet money. General Journal, December 1756. Volunteer, General Journal, March 1757. Appointed writer by the Board. Public Proceedings, 16th May 1757.
Woolley, Mrs. Ann	(c), (d), (g)	See Public Proceedings, 4th December 1759. Took refuge at Fulta. Diet money for five months. (General Journal, December 1756.) On 10th February 1762 a Mrs. Ann Woolley married Mr. John Zechariah Kiernander. Is she the same as the Ann Gunby, Spinster, who married Thomas Woolley, Sailor, 3rd October 1744?
Y
Yorke, Joseph	(c)	See Public Proceedings, 3rd March 1760.
Young, Captain Andrew	(b), (f), (g), (j), (k)	Of the Dodaly . Included in the Militia with his officers. It was his bad example which led to the desertion of the Fort by the ships. He produced a letter from Drake, dated 15th
