PREFACE

This is the sixth volume of Supplementary Author Catalogue comprising entries for letters "H-I" for publications received in the Library from 1951 to 1961. In compiling this volume the same rules of entry, the principles of arrangement etc., as followed in the earlier volumes have been observed.

This volume has been compiled under the general supervision of Shri M.N. Nagaraj, Deputy Librarian, Smt. Kalyani Maitra, Assistant Librarian has been actually responsible for the entire execution of the work. She was ably assisted in this work by Shri Rameswar Chatterjee and Smt. Arati Chatterjee, Technical Assistants.

Our thanks are due to Shri A. K. Ghatak, Manager, Government of India Press, Coimbatore and his staff for the printing of this work.

Hudson, Charles.

A new system of scientific geography, founded on trigonometrical & admeasured data, comprising an improved series of graphic analysis. Adapted to hydrographical & geodetical projections. Maintaining the principle of the absolute-squaræ projection. By an inverse process of reduction & transposition of the mercatorial chart & by specific minimization of spheroidal or mean spherical surfaces for ensuring the more correct traverses, definite bearings & distances. In navigation, maritime & territorial surveying; as well as specific accuracy, in the projection of seacharts & geodetical maps, than are acquired by the mercatorial & globular schemes extant. Also indicating the use & praxis of a logarithmic square tablet in the resolution of astronomical and terrestrial observations. By graphic notation & computation. And containing, various newly computed metrical tables an enlarged series of natural logarithms of the author's geometric quadrature & numerous diagrams in elucidation of the new theory.
