PREFACE

This tenth volume, covering the letters W-Z and containing entries for works catalogued up to the end of December, 1950, is the last one in the present series of the Author Catalogue, the first four of which, comprising the letters A to L and printed before the Second World War, covered entries for the accessions up to 1939. In compiling this volume the same rules of entry, the principles of arrangement, etc., as followed in the immediately preceding five volumes of the series, have been observed. Every item in this volume has been physically verified and is based on the actualities of the Stack Room.

The next programme is to publish supplementary volumes of the Author Catalogue, comprising entries for letters A-Z for publications received in the library from 1951 to 1961. The Author Catalogue covering entries for letters A-L for publications received in the Library from 1940 to 1950 will also be published as early as possible.

This volume has been compiled under the supervision of Sri Benoyendra Sengupta, Assistant Librarian who was assisted by Sri H. K. Das, Technical Assistant and Sri A. K. Munshi, Junior Technical Assistant, to all of whom the Librarian is thankful.

The Librarian is grateful to Sri A. S. Krishnamurthi, Manager, Government of India Press, Faridabad, as also his staff for the speedy execution of the printing of this volume.

With facsimile of original t.p. : Willobie his Avis. or, The true picture of a modest maid, and of a chaste and constant wife. In hexameter verse. ...Imprinted at London by John Windet. 1594.

Ostensibly edited by Hadrian Dorrell from the papers of his friend Henry Willoughby ; thought to be the work of Dorrell himself, though the name is probably fictitious. Has been ascribed to the Earl of Southampton. Matthew Royden, and others. The present editor located the poem at Cerne Abbas, and ascribes it to a friend of Raleigh.

Contains an early allusion to Shakespeare, and is supposed to refer to him under the initials W. S.
