FOREWORD

One of the important functions of the National Library is to compile bibliography on various subjects either on demand or on anticipated demand. A comprehensive bibliography on a special topic helps the researchers in many ways particularly it saves their valuable time in searching relevant literature.

I am glad to know that Smt. Krishna Chakraborty Ganguly has done a commendable service by bringing out an important bibliography on “Nyāya Philosophy”. I am sure that she has explored all the relevant literatures to make this bibliography exhaustive.

I should be glad if her painstaking work is fully utilised for those for which it is meant.

INTRODUCTION

0. Purpose of the Bibliography :

Bibliographic control is indispensable for serious studies and research. It is not possible to know how far knowledge has been unfolded in India and elsewhere on any discipline or topic without exhaustive subject bibliographies. The main purpose of this bibliography is to present before the academic world an exhaustive survey of all important reading materials in the field of Nyāya Philosophy in India and abroad. The interest of Nyāya study is increasing day by day amongst the logicians both in India and outside. So, it is an effort that will prove useful to all Nyāya scholars. Moreover, this bibliography is so designed that it will be a valuable asset not only to Nyāya scholars but also to all Indological Institutions engaged in serious study, research and reference.

This is an extensive analytical register for all significant writings dealing with Nyāya Philosophy which have been published between 1800 and 1985. Special efforts have been made to include almost all works in the field of Nyāya from 1800 to 1985 so that no gap occurs in the supply of information on this subject to the researchers and scholars.

1. Nature of the Bibliography :

This exhaustive subject bibliography is descriptive and analytical in nature. It consists of about 3000 entries of books, manuscripts, articles published in periodicals, theses, proceedings of seminars and conferences, summaries of papers, dissertations, etc. The bibliographic format combines the usual methods of entry for books and the documentation format in the recording of the periodicals, proceedings, etc. Indexing has been done in recording of manuscript. This is the first attempt to compile Nyāya bibliography in a methodical manner.

2. Data Collection :

Informations about Nyāya documents have been collected from local, national and international sources (list of Institutions appended). In case of local Institutions, informations of documents have been collected through personal visits to the different organisations and by verifying the documents. The publications of the National Library collections entered herein were physically verified and marked with an asterisk. In case of all other publications both from India and abroad informations have been collected through correspondence and from different reference tools (list of reference tools appended). In case of collecting information about periodical articles, journals were collected and consulted (list of journals appended) and in the case of manuscripts information was collected from published Descriptive Catalogue of Manuscripts.

3. Scope and Coverage :

The scope of this Nyāya bibliography is extended from local to international arena for both macro and micro documents but it is restricted to Sanskrit canonical texts and commentary of Nyāya Philosophy, English translations of Nyāya texts and commentaries and English works of Nyāya Philosophy. Documents on comparative studies on Nyāya and modern logic have also been included in this bibliography.

4. Methodology :

4.1 Arrangement :

The entries have been arranged languagewise i.e., Sanskrit and English. Under each language the Nyāya subject divisions have been classified alphabetically viz, Bauddha Nyāya, Jaina Nyāya, Navya Nyāya, Nyāya-Vaiśeṣika, Prācīna Nyāya etc. and under each subject entries have been arranged alphabetically.

4.2 Format :

In recording the entries for books Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, North American Text have been followed and efforts have been made to give bibliographical details to each of the entries. In case of articles and journals, proceedings, etc. Anglo American Cataloguing Rules, North American Text have been followed with slight modification for the benefit of the readers. In case of manuscripts only titles of manuscripts have been recorded.

In recording author's name two sets of procedures have been adopted. In case of Sanskrit work author's forename precedes the surname and in case of English work author's surname precedes the forename (citation pattern appended) Devanāgarī words have been spelt in transliterated Roman characters (transliteration table appended). Information received after compilation of the bibliography has been added in a list of supplement bibliography at the end.

4.3 Index :

The bibliography is divided into two parts : (1) Main Bibliography and (2) Index. The main bibliography contains the original entries arranged according to broad subject headings, so that all subject approaches can be serviced from this part. To facilitate author and title approaches two indexes, viz., (1) Author index and (2) Title index have been added having references to page number of each entry.

5. Acknowledgement :

It is an obligation on my part to express my sincere gratitude to the persons and institutions and to acknowledge their respective help and co-operation without which I would not have been able to compile this bibliography.

I acknowledge the valuable instructions and worthy guidance of my teachers late Prof. Gopika Mohan Bhattacharya and late Prof. Bimal Krishna Motilal. I am also grateful to Prof. Ananta Lal Thakur for his kind scrutiny of this bibliography.

I am very much grateful to Prof. R.K. Das Gupta, the former Director of the National Library who felt the necessity of compiling a bibliography of Nyāya Philosophy. I am also grateful to Prof. Ashin Das Gupta, Ex-Director of the National Library for his kind encouragement. I should specially mention my thanks to Dr. D.N. Banerjee for writing the foreword of this publication. I offer my grateful thanks to all scholars whom I had to write while compiling this work for their ready response. I express my gratitude to the Librarian, Smt. Kalpana Dasgupta for her kind guidance.

I also acknowledge my indebtedness to the Sanskrit Division, Processing Division, Bibliography Division and Printed Catalogue Division of the National Library, Asiatic Society Library, Sanskrit College Library, Sanskrit Sahitya Parishat Library, Jadavpur University Library, Rabindra Bharati University Library, Ramkrishna Mission Institute of Culture Library and all other Institutions for receiving all possible help and co-operation.

Lastly, I thank Shri Somnath Banerjee, Sr. Assistant of the National Library for his labour in making a beautiful typescript ; the Manager, Govt. of India Press, Santragachi and his Staff concerned for printing this work.

CRITICAL REVIEW OF NYĀYA BIBLIOGRAPHY

From content-wise calculation of the bibliography, about totality and percentage of books, manuscripts and documents, it is depicted in the Table No. II that Navya Nyāya has covered a vast field of nyāya philosophy. Most of this interest is limited into manuscript from which it is expected that the output of research papers would be increased in future. In case of Prācīna Nyāya, cultivation is limited more into major publications than manuscripts. It indicates that historical survey has been done more in Prācīna Nyāya than Navya. From percentage of documents as drawn in Table II, it is found that, concentration of historical research on Nyāya study to the ancient period was more than analysis of logical fallacies as being done in modern period. In Vaiśeṣika analysis of nyāya problem, which is known as Nyāya Vaiśeṣika, it is found that the level of publications and manuscripts are equal. Buddhist cultivation of Nyāya problem has been done more in major publications than in manuscripts, whereas jaina culture of nyāya problem is revealed more in manuscripts than in major publications. Scope of research and culture on Nyāya is not limited into Navyanyāya and Prācīna Nyāya but in different opposite group also. This is why comparative study of Nyāya logic is also being done in modern times it is found mainly in document and in major publication.

From date-wise calculation of books manuscripts and documents it is revealed from Table III that most of the manuscripts are not dated and the total strength of manuscript is more than books.

The bibliography contains total 2358 documents of which 1030 are manuscripts. It is noticed in between 1901-1980 that a sharp increase in publications occurred. Development of subject depends on the scope of research which is mainly concealed in manuscript. In Nyāya philosophy there is vast scope of growing research as it is depicted from manuscript collection of this bibliography.
