PREFACE

This is the third volume in the series of Classified Catalogue of Printed Books in the Asutosh Collection. This Catalogue is in two parts ; in the first part, or the Classified Section, the entries are arranged according to the Dewey Decimal system of subject classification ; in the second part, i.e., the Alphabetical Index Section, entries are arranged alphabetically by authors, titles, editors, series, subjects, etc. The fullest information about a book is given in the Classified Section. Shorter entries are given in the Index part.

The collection represents the holdings in history and geography of the world, travel accounts of the ancient travellers, early voyages round the world and the biographical accounts of the philosophers, religious leaders, social workers, politicians, rulers, statesmen, lawyers, public administrators, scientists, etc., except the biographies of the artists and literary persons which have already been included in the volumes one and two of this series.

This Catalogue has 3838 entries relating to 6,812 volumes which include many unique, out of print and rare editions. "The Historians History of India" in 25 volumes published in 1905, 180 volumes of the Hakluyt Society Series, autographed copy of Henry M. Stanley's "In Darkest Africa" (1890), important travel accounts of Bougainville, Captain Cook, Dampier, La Perouse, etc. are in this collection. As regards history and travel accounts of India, this collection has more than thousand titles, majority of which are written by English authors. Francis Hamilton Buchanan's "A Journey from Madras through the countries of Mysore, Canara and Malabar," 1807 and accounts of Hsuan Tsang and Fa-Heen contain valuable contemporary information. Johan Fryer's "A new account of East India and Persia", published in 1698 gives us 'a considerable amount of information relative to Sivaji and the Mahratta power in general'. Beautiful illustrations on India and Indian lives and customs by famous artists as Francois Balthazer Solvyns, Charles D'oyly, S. C. Belnos, J. B. Fraser, A. Saltykov, etc., etc. and some unique original paintings on paper and mica plates by some famous artists are the proud possession of this collection.

This volume has been compiled under the general supervision of Shri M. N. Nagaraj, Deputy Librarian. Sm. Kalyani Maitra, Assistant Librarian has been actually responsible for the entire execution of the work. She was ably assisted by the technical staff of the Asutosh Collection and the Printed Catalogues Division.

Our thanks are due to Shri N. Dasgupta, Manager, Government of India Press (K. S. R. unit), Santragachi, Howrah, and his staff for the printing of this work.

Library has: 2 pts. in 1.

Part 1 has title: Ionian antiquities published with permission of the society of Dilettanti by R. Chandler, N. Revett [and] W. Pars.

Pt. 1 was published, 1769; pt. 2, 1797; pt 3, 1840; pt. 4, 1881, pt. 5, 1915. In the introduction of pt. 5, the following statement is made, "The plates now published in this volume for the first time were engraved between 1820 and 1840 from the drawings made by the members of the second Ionian mission sent out by the society of dilletanti in 1811. These engravings were to have been issued in a companion volume to pt. 3 ... It was delayed, however, by the death of William Wilkins ... who had been the architectural expert of the society from the time of the mission, and was acting as editor of the work . The engraved plates were thus forgotten until a set of proofs were given by the society in 1912 to the Royal institute of British architects together with many of the original drawings ... They complete the important work, which was carried on for so long a time by the society of dilettanti The drawings given in 1912 ... were the whole of whose remaining in the possession of the society so far as architecture is concerned. They comprise the originals of most of the plates now published, together with many others from Myra and Telmessus which have not been engraved."

"With all the adjacent kingdoms, principalities, provinces, cities, chief harbors, structures, pagan temples, products, and living creature. The manners, habits, economies and ceremonies of the inhabitants; as likewise the most remarkable warlike exploits, sieges, sea and field-engagements betwist the Portugueses and Dutch; with their traffic and commerce. The whole adorn'd with new maps, and draughts of chief cities, forts, habits, living creatures, fruits, &c. of the product of the Indies, drawn to the life, and cut in copper plates.

Also a most circumstantial and complete account of the idolatry of the Pagans in the East-Indies, the Malabars, Benjans, Gentives, Brahmans, &c. Taken partly from their own Vedam or Law-book, and authentic manuscripts; partly from frequent conversation with their priests and divines. With the draughts of their idols, done after their originals".—t.-p.

A.C.920.01/C2[I]

DICTIONNAIRE contenant les anecdotes historiques de l'amour, depuis le commencement du monde, jusqu'd ce jour. [By M. Mouchet]; 2d ed. revue, corrigee et augmentée par l'Auteur, A Troyes, Chez Gorelet, 1811.

5v. 20.5cm.

A voluminous array of daring sketches in historical biography. To a very great extent it justifies Rousseau's famous definition of the "passion terrible", and affords an almost unique view of its escapades since the world began. The work is admirable as a supplement to the Biographical Dictionaries; or as a text book in a School for Scandal it would very soon come to be regarded as authoritative. Well compiled Indexes are appended to each volume.

Note on the binding. By Cyril Davenport": p. [vii]-xiii.

Bound in dark green morocco, tooled in gold. In the centre is the full royal coat-of-arms, well balanced and admirably resigned. The coat itself is surrounded by garter, and ensigned with a royal crown showing too many arches, a peculiarity often seen in Stuart depictments of this chief emblem of sovereignty. Copied from Dallington's "Aphorismes civill and militarie, published in London in 1613.

BATE, George, 1608-1669.

A short narrative of the late troubles in England: first written in Latin by an anonymus, for the information of forreners, and now don into English, for the behoof and pleasure of our century-men 1649. London, F. E. Robinson & co. 1902.

xxxviip., 1 l., 151p. front. (port.). 18cm. [Stuart series, vol. I].

Edited by Edward Almack from anonymous translation of Latin original.

T.p. within ornamental border.

"This edition is limited to 320 copies for sale and 30 for presentation and review, of which this copy is no. 96".

"Note on the binding. By Cyril Davenport": p. [vii]-xiii.

Vellum binding, tooled in gold.

The binding chosen for the present edition of Dr. Bates' "Elenchus Motuum" is taken from that covering some Almanacks of 1624, which were bound together for Charles, Prince of Wales, and in which he has written some remarks and signed his name.

In the centre are four impressions of the Prince of Wales' triple ostrich feather badge within a coronet and with a blank lebel, arranged as a star. In each corner of the rectangle on each side is an ornament, practically forming a quarter circle, adorned with scrolls and a design of a heart, and the field is powdered with a semis of flaming hearts.

[MISCELLANEOUS TRACTS. India affairs. London, 1783.]

Contains:

Tr.1 (A) Series of fact showing the present political state of India, as far as concerns the powers at war; and the probable consequences of a general pacification in Europe, before we shall have decided our contests in the Carnatic. Addresses (for form sake) to the Earl of Shelburne, but recommended to the serious consideration of all his Majesty's Ministers, and the members of both Houses of Parliament. London, [no. pub.] 1783.

1 p.l., 51p.

Tr. 2. (A) Vindication of Gen. Richard Smith Chairman of the Select Committee of the House of Commons as to his competency to preside over and direct, an investigation into the best mode of providing the investment for the East India Company's Homeward Bengal Ships. To which are added some instances to prove, that the general is not that proud insolent, and irascible man, his enemies would induce the public to believe him to be. As also, a few serious hints to the select committee, tending to shew, that they are wasting their time in the minutiae of Asiatic Commerce, whilft the great outlines and consequential branches, are in danger of being overbooked. London, 1783.

Tr.3. The Saddle put on the Right Horfe; or an enquiry into the reasons why certain performs have been denominated Nabobs; with an arrangement of those Gentlemen into their proper classes, of real, spurious, reputed or moufhroom. Nabobs. Concluding with a few reflections on the prefent State of our Asatic affairs, by the author of the Vindication of Gen. Richard Smith. London, 1783.

975.9—Florida

(The) DISCOVERY, and conquest of Terra Florida, by Don Ferdinando de Soto ... written by a gentleman of Elvas ... and translated out of Portuguese, by Richard Hakluyt. Reprinted from the edition of 1611. Ed. with notes and an introduction, and a translation of a narrative of the expedition by Luis Hernandez de Biedma, factor to the same, by William B. Rye. London, Printed for the Hakluyt society, 1851.

2 p.l., lxviip., 1 l., 200, v p. map. 22.5cm. (Works issued by the Hakluyt society, [no. ix]).

Introduction: p. [1]-lxvii.

Hakluyt had first published his translation of the anonymous "Relacam verdadeiro ..." under title Virginia richly valued, by the description of the main land of Florida ..." London 1609. The losses which the Virginia colony suffered during the following year, 1610, produced much discouragement. Hakluyt as one of the chief promoters of this first English settlement in North America, with a view to tempting new aventures and to encourage those who had already gone out as colonists, decided to issue a second edition of this translation. But in place of the ambiguous title of 1609, which from a casual glance might lead one to enfer that the book treated of Virginia instead of Florida, Hakluyt made use of more accurate title "The worthye and famous history of the travelles, discovery & conquest, of that great continent of Terra Florida, being liucry paraleld with that of our now inhabited Virginia. As also the comodities of the said country which cannot but give us a great and exceeding hope of our Virginia, being so neere of one continent. Accomplished and effected by ... Don Fernando de Soto ... London, printed for Mathew Lownes, 1611."

A reproduction of this t.-p. of 1611 is prefixed to the text in the above reprint.
