At the compiling Domesday, it was Part of the Demesnes of William de Warene, and a noble large Manor Farm. It seems in the Pagan Times of the Saxons to have had a Temple, Shrine, or Statue of a Pagan rural Deity, whom the Northern Nations worshipped by that Name, or Niorde. In the Domesday Copy, at the Treasurer's Remembrancer's Office in the Exchequer, it is written Niworde. By dropping the N., it becomes Iword and Iford, and in an old Nom. Vil. at the Museum, it is entered there Iford, and Westout, and Vill., which bespeaks that so much of the Burg of Lewes, as lies without the West-gate, now called Westout, with a District of Land between that Place and Iford, was an Appendage to Iford. And Mr. Row has a Minute that no Person of Sufficiency was found in Westout, or the Vill, for the Office of one of the Constables, that therefore both were chosen from the Vill of Iford.”—Burrell's MSS. No. 5684, p. 488.

It is 69 m. N. E. from London. The Markets are on Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday. The Fairs are on the 4th May, 25th July, 8th August, and 25th September. This Town sends two Members to Parliament; the two Bailiffs are the Returning Officers. The Corporation consists of two Bailiffs, a Recorder, High Steward, 12 Portmen (of whom the Bailiffs are two,) two Coroners, a Town Clerk, 24 Common Council Men, and other Officers. The Bailiffs, and four of the Portmen, are Justices of the Peace. No Freeman can be obliged, against his Consent, to serve on Juries out of the Town, or be compelled to discharge the Duties of County Offices, except that of Sheriff. Here is a Court both for Civil and Criminal Causes. The Corporation has an Admiralty Jurisdiction, and is entitled to all Waifs, Strays, and Goods, cast on shore within its Liberty, which extends, on the Essex Coast, beyond Harwich, and on both Sides the Suffolk Coast, beyond Landguard-Fort. Here is a Free School. The Petty Sessions are holden here.—“A Priory of Black Canons, of the Order of St. Austin, was begun in the Parish Church of the Holy Trinity here before A. D. 1177, and chiefly endowed by Norman fil. Eadnothi, one of the first Canons. But the Church and Offices, being consumed by Fire not long after, were rebuilt by the Munificence of John Oxford, Bishop of Norwich, whereupon King Richard I., ann. reg. 5, gave the Patronage of this Monastery to him and his Successors. Here were a Prior and six or seven Canons, whose Estate was valued, 26th Hen. VIII., at £88..6..9 per ann. Dugd. The Site was granted, 36th Hen. VIII., to Sir Thomas Pope.—Another Priory of Black Canons, dedicated to St. Peter and St. Paul, and founded in the latter End of the Reign of King Hen. II., or Beginning of that of King Richard I., by the Ancestors of Thomas Lacy and Alice his Wife, which was suppressed by the Authority of Cardinal Wolsey, March 6th, 1527, who having obtained Bulls from the Pope, and Letters patent from the King for the Site and Estate belonging to this Priory, founded, 20th Hen. VIII., in the Place where it stood, a College for a Dean, twelve secular Canons, eight Clerks, and eight Choristers, to the Honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, together with a Grammar School, which he designed as a Nursery to his great College in Oxford. And for Endowment of the same he farther procured the Possessions of the late Monasteries of Snape, Dodnash, Wikes, Horkesley, Tiptree, Romborough, Felixstow, Bromehill, Bliburgh, and Montjoy. But this noble Foundation was scarce brought to Perfection before the Disgrace of that Prelate (who was born in this Town,) and the Site of the College, with good Part of the Lands belonging to St. Peter's Monastery were granted, 23rd Hen. VIII., to Thomas Alverde; and, 9th James I., to Richard Percival and Edmund Duffield.—Edmund Dandy, sometime Bailiff and Portman of Ipswich, who died A. D. 1515, founded some Almshouses in Lady Lane here (in the Parish of St. Matthew,) and settled Lands in Holbrook on the Bailiffs and their Successors for the Endowment of them. But those Lands were either granted away or assigned to other Uses upon the Dissolution of Hospitals, temp. Edw. VI. For though the Houses remain, and are inhabited by poor People, the Parish pays some Rent to the Corporation for them. Here were also an Hospital dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene, and Houses of the Austin, Black, Grey, and White Friars.”—Tanner's Not. Mon.

NEW WORKS

PRINTED FOR

LONGMAN, HURST, REES, AND ORME, PATERNOSTER ROW.

1. THE TOPOGRAPHY OF TROY, AND ITS VICINITY, illustrated and explained by Drawings and Descriptions. Dedicated, by Permission, to Her Grace the Duchess of Devonshire.

By WILLIAM GELL, Esq. of Jesus College, M.A. F.A.S. and late Fellow of Emmanuel College, Cambridge. In Folio, Price 10*l.* 10*s.* in Boards.

In the Work are given forty-three coloured Plates taken from accurate Drawings, made on the Spot, by the author, and chiefly engraved by Mr. Medland. The Work is designed to afford an Opportunity to such as have not visited the Country, of forming their own opinions of the Topography of Homer.

"We recommend this work of Mr. Gell as one of the most honourable monuments which has been erected to the most ancient, the first and best of Poets; as one of the most acceptable and illustrious works that have appeared since the desire of visiting the Troad has revived, and we have no scruple to class him among those in the first rank, who have done credit to their country, as men of talents, elegance, and discernment." Crit. Rev. "We cannot conclude without expressing our opinion, that Mr. Gell has rendered a real service to the cause of ancient literature. His splendid work is executed with equal taste and care, and the end proposed seems to have been fully attained." An. Rev.

2. A DESCRIPTION OF LATIUM; or, LA CAMPAGNA DI ROMA. In 1 vol. demy 4to. illustrated by Etchings by the Author, and a Map, 1*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.* in Boards.

This Description is intended to give an Idea of the Cities, Towns, and Villages, in the Neighbourhood of Rome; of the Paintings, Sculptures, and Vestiges of Antiquity which they contain, as well as of the picturesque Scenery which surrounds them.

"This work has exacted our tribute of approbation, and we confidently assert, that it will prove well worthy the attention of the classic reader, and equally acceptable to the lovers of the fine arts." Anti Jac. "The great merit of the work consists in the beauty of the etchings, and in the clear and accurate manner in which the vestiges of antiquity are pointed out and explained." Lit. Journ. "The materials have been well employed, and evidently directed by personal observations." Ann. Rev. "The world is indebted for this volume, we believe, to Miss Knight, the author of Marcus Flaminius; and it will be considered as another honourable proof of her abilities and assiduity. The plates, in number twenty, are touched with spirit, and add much to the interest of the work." Ecl. Rev. "It is not our fortune often to meet with a volume, where more information and entertainment are combined. Twenty etchings, by the author, are introduced in the volume. These are slight, but executed with remarkable neatness and precision. A map also of the Campagna is prefixed. The work is confidently, and we believe rightly, attributed to a lady already celebrated as a writer, the accomplished Cornelia Knight." Brit. Crit.

3. ILLUSTRATIONS of the SCENERY of KILLARNEY, the surrounding Country, and a considerable Part of the Southern Coast of Ireland.

By ISAAC WELD, Esq. M. R. I. A.

In 1 vol. 4to, with numerous Plates, elegantly engraved, price 2*l.* 2*s.* and on royal Paper, with first Impressions of the Plates, price 3*l.* 3*s.* in extra Boards.

4. LONDINIUM REDIVIVUM; or an ancient History, and modern Description of London, compiled from Parochial Records, Archives of various Foundations, the Harleian MSS. and other authentic Sources.

By JAMES PELLER MALCOLM, F. S. A.

The 4th Vol. being the Completion, in 4to. Price 2*l.* 2*s.* in Boards.

"This may indeed be considered as an original History of London. No subject at all connected with the undertaking seems to have escaped the author's notice. The work is full of biographical notices, curious Anecdotes, local peculiarities, charters, presentments, &c. &c. and what is not less deserving praise, the extracts from Registers are so various, that certificates may be obtained if necessary, of upwards of a thousand eminent names, exclusive of inscriptions on monuments. The labour of such an undertaking is so manifest, and its utility at the same time so obvious, that it seems a sort of public duty to promote it by all possible accommodation. We have no doubt that when finished this will be the most comprehensive account of London that has ever been published." Brit. Crit.

The Three first Volumes may be had either separately or together. Price 5*l.* 5*s.* in Boards.
