For hither, as to a Place of some Note, the Body of St. Edmund the King was translated from the obscure wooden Chapel at Hoxne, A. D. 909. Immediately whereupon the Town changed its name, and several Secular Priests settling here, built a new Church to the Honor of that royal Martyr. They were at first not above seven or eight in Number, but increased in a few Years to be nineteen, viz., fourteen Priests and five Deacons, all having their several Prebends, and became a perfect College about A. D. 925, when King Ethelstan is said to be their Founder. This Minster from thenceforward was augmented in Privileges and Revenues by King Edmund, by Theodred Bishop of London, and other Benefactors; but A. D. 1020., King Canute expelled the Secular Clerks, and placed herein a Convent of Benedictine Monks from Hulm in Norfolk. These he and others endowed with so many Estates, Royalties, and Immunities, that this Abbey of St. Edmund was inferior to very few in Revenues, and to none in England as to Situation, Buildings, Ecclesiastical Exemptions, or civil Franchises and Liberties. In the Valuation of 26th Hen. VIII., its yearly Income was computed at £1659. 13. 11 ob. Dugd.; £2336. 16. 0 Speed. It is 55½ m. E. b. S. from London. The Markets are on Wednesday, and Saturday. The Fairs are on the 4th May, and 10th October. This City sends two Members to Parliament; the Sheriff is the Returning Officer. The Corporation, according to the Charter of King James I., consists of a Mayor, Recorder, 12 Aldermen, and 24 Common Council Men, (including the Sheriff, and Town Clerk,) a Chamberlain, Coroner, and other Officers. It is divided into six Wards, called Burgate, North-Gate, Ridingate, St. George's-Gate, West-Gate, and Wincheap-Gate, anciently Worthgate, to each of which, according to the Ordination of King Hen. VIII., two Aldermen are appointed. A Court of Burghmote for the Business of the City is holden every fourth Tuesday; And a General Court of Quarter Sessions, and Court of Oyer and Terminer, with Power of Life and Death, Pleas of Trespass, and other Privileges, are holden in like Manner as in other Cities and Counties of a similar Description. The Petty Sessions for the Home Division, and also for Wingham Division, of the Lathe of St. Augustine are holden here.—“King Ethelbert, upon his first Conversion to Christianity, about the Year 600, gave his Palace here to St. Augustine, and the Monks that came over with him, who thereupon began a Monastery here, and repairing an old Church in the Neighbourhood (said to have been founded and filled with Monks before the Romans left this Island) dedicated it to the Honor of Our Blessed Savior Christ. This was by the Archbishops made their Cathedral, and for the most Part was under the Care of a Dean and Secular Canons, till Archbishop Ealfric, A. D. 1003, turned them out, and put in Monks in their stead; but the Seculars quickly after seem to have repossessed themselves, and continued till Lanfranc, about A. D. 1080, rebuilt the Cathedral and the adjacent Buildings, and replenished the same with one hundred and fifty Benedictine Monks. From this Time this Monastery was often stiled the Church or Priory of the Holy Trinity, as well as Christ Church, and besides the great Offerings at Thomas of Becket's Shrine, was endowed with Lands and Revenues, valued, 26th Hen. VIII., at the clear Sum of £2387.13.3 ob. per ann., or £2489.4.9, as in Speed. Upon the Dissolution King Hen. VIII. refounded this Church, and placed therein a Dean and twelve Canons or Prebendaries, with six Preachers, six Minor Canons, six Substitutes, twelve Lay Clerks, ten Choristers, two Masters, and fifty Scholars, twelve Almsmen, &c.—The before mentioned new Convert Ethelbert King of Kent, upon the farther Persuasions of his ghostly Father St. Augustine, founded, A. D. 605, another noble Monastery here, and commended it to the Patronage of St. Peter and St. Paul; but the names of those two great Apostles were swallowed up by the new one of St. Augustine, Archbishop of Canterbury; for, after his Burial here, this House was generally stiled St. Augustine's Abbey. The Monks were of the Benedictine Order, and, 26th Hen. VIII., were returned into the Exchequer to have been endowed with £1413.4.11 ob. q. per ann. Dugd.; £1412.4.7 ob. q. Speed; which last Sum is the gross Value in the MSS., and the clear Sum there is £1274.0.10 ob. q. The Site was granted for Life to Cardinal Poole, 2^o and 3^o Philip and Mary.—In the North-Gate Street, over against the Hospital of St. John, Archbishop Lanfranc founded an House for Secular Priests, A. D. 1084, to the Honor of St. Gregory, but Archbishop William, temp. Hen. I., made it a Priory of Black Canons. About the Time of the Dissolution here were thirteen Religious, who were endowed with the yearly Revenue of £121.15.1 per ann. Dugd.; £166.4.5 ob. Speed. The Site was granted, 28th Hen. VIII., to the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury in Exchange for Wimbledon, &c.—In the South East Part of this City was a Benedictine Nunnery founded by Archbishop Anselm about 1100. It was called St. Sepulchre's, had a Prioress and five or seven Nuns, who were found about the Time of the Dissolution to be possessed of £29.12.5 ob. per ann. Dugd.; £38.19.7 ob. Speed. The Site was granted, 30th Hen. VIII., in Lieu of some other Lands to the Archbishop of Canterbury, but afterward, 38th Hen. VIII., to James Hales.—The Hospital of Eastbridge or Kingsbridge in this City is guessed to have been of Archbishop Lanfranc's Foundation. However, if the Confirmation of what Robert Drus gave to the Church of Eastburch, and the Regular Brethren there mentioned by Mr. Speed belong to this Place, it was as ancient as King Hen. I., and so before Thomas Becket's time, who is by some said to be the Founder: but whoever founded it, it was called immediately after the Canonization of the last mentioned Archbishop, the Hospital of St. Thomas the Martyr. Archbishop Stratford did so much for it, as to be stiled the second Founder. It was originally for the Entertain-

 “ Dugd., Speed. It was preserved upon the Reformation, but being like to be swallowed up “ in Queen Elizabeth’s Time, Archbishop Whitgift recovered the same, and made Statutes,
 “ which are confirmed by Act of Parliament, whereby here are established a Master, a School“ master, five In-Brothers, and five In-Sisters, and as many Out-Brothers and Out-Sisters.—
 “ Without the North-Gate of this City, Lanfranc Archbishop of Canterbury, about the Year “ 1084, founded and endowed with £70..0..0 per ann. an Hospital for poor infirm, lame, or “ blind Men and Women, dedicated to St. John Baptist. It was under the Government of a “ Prior; And its Revenues were valued, 26^o Hen. VIII., at £93..15..0 in the whole, and “ £91..16..8 ob. per ann. clear. It is yet in being, and the latest Account that hath been “ given of it saith, that it contains a Prior, a Reader, eighteen In-Brothers, twenty In-Sisters,
 “ and the like Number of Out-Brothers and Out-Sisters; and that the Revenues in the whole
 “ are £195..8..9.—On the right Hand of the Way from this City to Dover, in the South “ East Suburb, Hugh the second of that Name, Abbat of St. Augustine’s, built to the Honor
 “ of St. Laurence, A. D. 1137, an Hospital for the Relief of leproous Monks, or the poor “ Parents and Relations of any of the Monks of that Abbey. It consisted of a Warden or “ Keeper, a Priest or Chaplain, one Clerk, and sixteen Brethren and Sisters; and the “ Chief or Senior of these Sisters was sometimes called the Prioress. The Revenues of this “ House were valued, 26^o Hen. VIII., at £39..8..6 in the whole, and £31..7..10 clear. It
 “ was alienated in the Time of King Edward VI. to one Tipsal, and after by Queen Mary “ granted to Sir John Parrot.—In the Parish of St. Margaret, before the Year 1243, Simon “ de Langton Archdeacon of Canterbury founded an Hospital for poor infirm aged Priests, “ which was valued, 26^o Hen. VIII., at £28..16..1 in the whole, and £10..13..8 per ann.
 “ clear. It continued undissolved till 17^o Elizabeth, when it was surrendered by the then “ Master, Archdeacon of Canterbury as Patron, and Archbishop as ordinary, whereupon the “ Queen granted the same with all its Lands and Appurtenances to the Mayor and Commonalty “ of the City for the Use of the Poor, and the Site of it is now their Bridewell.—Here were “ also a Monastery built in Honor of St. Mildred; an Hospital called Mainard’s Spittle; an “ Hospital called St. Nicholas and St. Catherine’s; and Houses of Austin, Black, and Grey “ Friars.”—Tanner’s Not. Mon.

The Nave of the Cathedral is Parochial.—“Several Writers of St. Cuthbert's Life tell us of that holy Man's founding here, A. D. 686, a Convent of Monks, a School, and an Abbey of Nuns; but from Bede's Life of St. Cuthbert, c. 27, it seems as if the Monastery here, to which Queen Ermenburga retired, was in being before St. Cuthbert's coming to Carlisle. But all these ecclesiastical Buildings, with the City and adjacent Country, being laid waste in the Danish Wars, the City was rebuilt and fortified by King William Rufus, and Walter a Norman Priest (being made by that King governor of the City,) began a Monastery to the Honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which was finished and endowed by King Hen. I., who placed Regular Canons therein; and when he had established the Bishop's See here, made this Church a Cathedral: But it is observable, that this was the only Episcopal Chapter in England of the Order of St. Austin. The Revenues of the Bishopric were valued, 26 Hen. VIII., at £577..0..0 in the whole; and £531..4..11 clear. And the Revenues of the Priory were then valued at £418..3..4 ob. q. as Dugd.; and £482..8..1 as Speed. The Priory was dissolved January 9th, A. D. 1540, by King Hen. VIII., who shortly after founded here a Dean, four Canons or Prebendaries, eight minor Canons, a Sub-deacon, four Lay-clerks or singing Men, a Master of Grammar, six Choristers, a Master of the Choristers, six Almsmen, one Verger, two Sextons, &c., and granted them the Site of the Priory and the greatest Part of the Revenues of it. In this new foundation the Church is called, “The Church of the Holy and Undivided Trinity; Father, Son, and Holy Ghost.”—The Hospital of St. Nicholas, near this City, founded by some of the King's
