It is 1804 m. N. W. from London. The Markets are on Wednesday, and Saturday. The Fairs are on the last Thursday in February, 5th July, and 10th October. This City sends two Members to Parliament; the Sheriffs are the Returning Officers. It is governed by a Mayor, Recorder, 24 Aldermen, 2 Sheriffs, 40 Common Council Men, and other Officers. The Assizes are holden in the Castle here. The Poor within the Liberties of the Cathedral are maintained by the Dean and Chapter without any Rate, or Overseers. The Hospital of Little St. John is for six poor Widows, who are maintained by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Common Council of the City, (to whom the whole District, about 7 or 10 Statute Acres, belongs,) without any Rate, or Overseers.—“ Though this City is deservedly famous on account of its Antiquity, being unquestionably a Colony of the Romans and the Station of one of their Legions, yet the Building of a Cathedral Church here to the Honor of St. Peter and St. Paul, in the Time of King Lucius, must be looked upon as a Fiction of later Writers. Of not much better Authority is the Tradition concerning Wulphere (who was the first Christian King of Mercia,) his founding here, about the Year 670, a Nunnery for his Daughter Werburgh, and other Virgins disposed to lead monastic Lives. It is more certain that, before the End of the seventh Century, an Episcopal See for Part of the Mercian Dominions was placed in this City. This was some Time under different, but for the most part under the same Bishops with Lichfield, and to that at length was united; but after the Conquest, Bishop Peter and his Successor Robert de Limesey, removing wholly from Lichfield, fixed their Residence for almost thirty years here at Chester in St. John's Church, where Bishop Peter was buried, till A. D. 1102, when Bishop Robert, taking greater liking to the rich Monastery of Coventry, made that one of his Cathedrals, and left Chester.—In this City there was pretty early in the Saxon Times a Religious House, probably a Nunnery, and dedicated to St. Peter and St. Paul, whither, as to a Place of Safety, the Remains of St. Werburgh were brought from Heanburgh A. D. 875. But this Monastery was ruined by the Wars, or Injury of Time, and in the Reign of King Ethelstan re-edified for Secular Canons, by the noble Elfeda Countess of Mercia, and afterwards it was more amply endowed by the Munificence of King Edmund, King Edgar, Earl Leofric, and other Benefactors, in Honor of the above-mentioned Royal Holy Virgin St. Werburgh. In the Year 1093, at the Instigation of the famous Anselm after Archbishop of Canterbury,

“Hugh Lupus Earl of Chester expelled from hence the Seculars, and settled here an Abbat and Convent of Benedictine Monks from Bec in Normandy, in whose Possession St. Werburgh's Church continued till the general Dissolution of Monasteries in England by King Hen. VIII., who, ann. reg. 33, restored the same (which was to be thenceforth styled the Church of Christ and the Blessed Virgin,) to a Dean and six Prebendaries, and made this City once more the Seat of a Bishop. The yearly Revenues of the Abbey were rated, 26th Hen. VIII., at £1003..5..11 Dugd.: £1073..17..7 ob. q. Speed.—Here were also the Monasteries of St. Mary, and St. Michael; the Colleges of St. John, and the Holy Cross; the Hospitals of St. Giles, and St. John Baptist; and Houses of the Black, Grey, and White Friars.”—Tanner's Not. Mon.—“Chester, as has already been noted, is an ancient Port; but the great Breadth of the Estuary of the Dec, and the comparative Smallness of the Body of Water flowing through it, rendered it liable to be choaked up with Sand thrown in by the Tide. This gradually took place to such a Degree in the last Century, that in the Year 1674, Vessels of twenty Tons could scarcely reach the Town, and Ships of Burthen were obliged to lie under Newton, ten Miles lower down, which was the Origin of that Assemblage of Houses on the adjacent shore, called Park-gate, still the station of the Irish Packets.”—Aikins's Manchester, p. 389.

CHESTER, LITTLE, in the hund. of Morleston and Litchurch, Co. of DERBY; in the Parish of St. Alkmund. The Resident Population of this Township, in 1801, was 181. The Money raised by the Parish Rates, in 1803, was £84..5..0, at 2s. 9d. in the Pound. It is 1 m. N. E. from Derby.

CORTON, in the hund. of Mutford and Lothingland, Co. of SUFFOLK : a discharged V., of the clear yearly Value of £10.0.0 : Patron, The King : Church ded. to St. Bartholomew. The Resident Population of this Parish, in 1801, was 242. The Money raised by the Parish Rates, in 1803, was £60.12.4, at 1s. 8d. in the Pound. It is 3 m. N. from Lowestoft. This Parish comprehends upwards of a thousand Acres of Land.—“The Body of the Church is now delapidated, and the Chancel is the only Part of it appropriated to Divine Service. The Ruins which are now remaining give evident Proof that the Building was of considerable Dimensions ; and the handsome Tower, which is still perfect, strongly denotes its original Elegance.—It is supposed that the Village of Corton, in former Times, was much larger than it is at present. It is certain there were two Churches in the Parish, or, at least, a Chapel of Ease to the Mother Church ; the small Remains, still visible at a Place called the Gate, tend to confirm the latter Opinion, as the old Foundations of Houses discovered in different Parts of the Parish, lead to evince the former. Probably the Parish had arrived at its most opulent State about the 13th Century, when the Mouth of Yarmouth Haven had extended almost to this Place ; which, added to the adjoining Situation of Kirkley Road, must occasion a great Resort of Fishermen, from different Parts of the Kingdom, to this Village.”—Gillingwater's Hist. of Lowestoft, pp. 82, and 83.

It is 10 m. N. N. E. from Warwick, and 91 m. NW. b. N. from London. The Market is on Friday. The Fairs are on the second Friday after Ash-Wednesday, 2d May, Friday in Trinity Week, 26th and 27th August, and 1st November. This City sends two Members to Parliament; the Sheriffs are the Returning Officers. The Corporation, according to the Charter of James I., consists of a Mayor, Recorder, two Sheriffs, two Bailiffs, a Steward, two Chamberlains, a Coroner, Town Clerk, two Wardens, ten Aldermen, (who preside over the ten Wards into which the City is divided, and are Justices of the Peace within the City and its County,) thirty one superior, and twenty-five inferior Common Council Men, and other Officers. Here is a Free School. The Assizes are always holden here: this City having the power to hold Pleas for all Actions, and having a Gaol both for Debtors and Felons.—“Here is said to have been in the Saxon Times a famous Convent of Nuns under the Go- “vernment of St. Osburg, which was destroyed by the Danes, A. D. 1016. But about the “Year 1043, the munificent Earl of Mercia Leofric, with his Lady Godiya (among many “other worthy Foundations,) began here a noble Monastery for an Abbat and twenty-four “Benedictine Monks, whom they endowed with twenty-four Manors, and richly finished the “Church, and all the Offices of the House, to the Honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, St. “Peter and St. Osburgh. Upon the Vacancy of this Abbey, A. D. 1095, Robert de Limesy, “Bishop of Chester, obtained not only the Custody of it, but also leave to remove his Epis-

“ copal See hither, whereupon this Monastery became a Cathedral Priory, and the Prior and “ Convent were one of the Chapters to the Bishops of this Diocese, many of whom stiled “ themselves Bishops of Coventry only. One of them, viz., Hugh de Novant, in the Year “ 1191, took some occasion to expel the Monks, and in their room placed Secular Canons in “ this Church; but within seven Years the Monks got to be restored, and continued here till “ the Surrender, 30^o Hen. VIII. About which Time their Revenues were valued at “ £731..19..5 per ann., or after Reprises, at £499..7..4 clare. The Site was granted, “ 37^o Hen. VIII., to John Combes and Richard Stansfield.—William Lord Zouch, A. D.
 “ 1381, intended to build a Monastery of the Carthusian Order, to the Honor of St. Anne, “ upon fourteen Acres of Land in Shortley near Coventry, which he had obtained for that “ Purpose of Sir Baldwin Frevile, but being prevented by Death, his good Design was “ carried on in some Degree by other well disposed Persons, though not like to be brought to “ any perfection till A. D. 1385, when King Richard II. laid the first Stone of the Church,
 “ and at the Request of his Queen Anne undertook to be Founder, and accordingly endowed “ them with many alien Priories, part of which were re-assumed in succeeding Reigns; so “ that this House, consisting of a Prior and eight Monks, in 26^o Hen. VIII., had but “ £131..6..4 per ann. Dugd.; £161..6..4. MSS. val. and Stevens. vol. 1. p. 31;
 “ £251..5..9 Speed. It was granted, 34^o Hen. VIII. to Richard Andrews and Leonard
 “ Chamberlayn.—“ Hard within the West Gate, alias Bablake Gate, is a Collegiate Church
 “ dedicated to St. John Baptist. It is of the Foundation of the Burgesses. In this College
 “ is now a Master and eight Ministers, and lately twelve Ministers.” (Leland's Itin. vol. 4, “ p. 124.)—The Parcel of Land called Bablake was given to the Merchants' Guild or Frater“ nity of St. John Baptist, who thereupon built the Chapel or Church of St. John above “ mentioned, which was dedicated A. D. 1350; which Guild, being united with those of the “ Trinity and St. Katharine, maintained the Warden and Priests above said, with a Master
 “ of Grammar, Clerks, and Choristers. Its annual Revenues were valued, 26^o Hen. VIII.,
 “ at £45..6..8. Dugd. and Speed; but by another Survey, 37^o Hen. VIII., they amounted “ to £111..13..8 Dugd. Warw.—Within or near the College of Bablake, Thomas Bond “ draper, sometime Mayor of this City, founded an Hospital, A. D. 1506, for a Priest, “ being a Preacher, ten poor Men, and one Woman, and endowed the same with Lands to “ the yearly Value of £49..11..7. It was granted, 2^o Edw. VI., to the Bailiffs and Com“ monalty of the City, and is not only still continued, but, as the Rents have been raised,
 “ more poor People have been taken into it. So that now here are eighteen old Men and a “ Nurse, receiving every one three Shillings per Week for Diet, a black Gown yearly, Fuel,
 “ and other Advantages.—Near unto the House of Grey Friars, William Ford a Merchant in “ this City founded an Almshouse, A. D. 1529, for five poor Men and one Woman; which “ was shortly after better endowed by the Charity of William Pisford his Executor, and since,
 “ by the Benefaction of Mr. Simon Norton Alderman of Coventre. It is yet in being, and,
 “ by the kindness of the Corporation, and raising the Rents, there are now maintained in it “ seven poor Men and their Wives in blue Gowns, who have every one 2s. per Week, and a “ Nurse, who hath 2s. 6d. per Week; and to each House there is 10s. worth of Coals sent “ every Year.—Here was an ancient College or rather Hospital, consisting of a Master or “ Warden and several Brothers and Sisters, dedicated to St. John Baptist, founded upon the “ Soil, and with the Approbation of the Prior and Convent of Coventry, at the Instance, and “ for the most part at the Expence of Edmund Archdeacon of Coventry, in the Beginning of “ the Reign of King Hen. II. It was valued, 26^o Hen. VIII., at £67..3..2 clare per ann.; “ £99..13..6 in toto. MSS. Archer; £83..3..3 Speed, Dugd.; And was granted, with “ all the Possessions thereunto belonging, to John Hales, Gent., who converted the same to a “ Free School, which continues to this Day.—Here were also Houses of the Grey, and “ White Friars.—On the West Part of the City (at Sponne) was an Hospital for Lepers, “ dedicated to St. Mary Magdalene. And at Cheylesmore was a Religious Foundation intended
 “ by William le Galeys, 21^o Edw. III.”—Tanner's Not. Mon.
