

The principal road connected with Sonah is that which leads from Muttra to Dehlie. The other roads are those which connect it with Pulwul, Noh, Bullumghur (or Palee) and Rewaree. None of those are however of importance equal to the Dehlie and Muttra road. As a commercial line, and as affecting this district, this is perhaps the most important within it. Its condition is far from good, nor can much be done to improve it, by reason of the extremely sandy nature of the soil on which it is based, except by the employment of metal, an improvement too expensive to be speedily executed, and one which after all it is doubtful whether equal, for any length of time, to the wear and tear of the heavy rude carts of the country. The other roads, excepting in regard to bridges, which are under consideration, are in perhaps as good a state as it is practicable or necessary to have them.

I have already alluded to the valuable improvement effected by Mr. C. Gubbins on that part of the Sonah and Rewarree road which leads over the hills immediately above Sonah. This, formerly the most difficult, is now the easiest part of the whole line.

In the formation of reservoirs, or in drainage, I do not believe that much improvement can be effected in this district.

IV.

TAOROO.

The small pergunnah of Taoroo is situated between those of Rewaree to the West and Sonah to the north and east: on the south it is bounded by the territory of Alwur. It contains 52 khalsa and 3 jagheer villages, an area of 26,363 acres, and a population of 9,995 souls.

The tenures are 33 bhyachara, 14 zemindaree, 5 perfect or imperfect putteedaree, and 3 unknown; and the proprietary classes are either Meos, Jaths, or Aheers, of whom it will be perceived that the Meos greatly preponderate, since they hold forty villages.

After the cession, this pergunnah was conferred in jagheer on the Bhurtpoor Chief, from whom it was resumed on the fall of Bhurtpoor in 1826. Its fiscal history from that year to 1837, when it was settled by Mr. Lawrence, is as follows:

Name of Purgunnah.	No. of Settlement.	Period of Settlement.		Average demand.	Average collections.	Average remissions.	Average balance.
		From	To
Taoroo.	1st. ..	1233	1242	26,697-0-10	24,895-12-0	1,136-14-1	664-6-9
	2nd. ..	1243 &	1244	30,396-0-0	26,050 -4-8	2,268 -4 0	2,077-7-4

In 1841, the settlement of the pergunnah was again revised by Mr. Barnes, when the jumma was reduced to Rs. 16,458.

There is no town of any importance situated within this pergunnah. Nor can I discover that any remarkable suits in connection with it have been instituted, or that any old farms or talooquas have been dissolved, or that any old families have fallen, or new risen in their room.

It would seem that claim to rent-free land was advanced in this pergunnah, only to 202 acres of land in qusbela Taoroo, and that of this 108 have been released on investigation. Three villages however are, in this pergunnah, held in jagheer for the support of religious institutions.

There has been no change worthy of notice in this pergunnah since the revision of settlement; which, this circumstance may be considered to prove, to have been judicious.

General effect of Revenue system.

The revision of settlement in this pergunnah was first carried on by Mr. Lawrence in 1837. Circumstances, which will be found detailed in his own notice, caused this settlement to be again revised by Mr. Barnes in 1841, and for a notice of the principles on which it was concluded, I beg to refer to the report of these Officers. That it has worked well, may be inferred from the statement I have made in my last paragraph.

Settlement.

It is reported to me by my tehseeldar, that no schools exist in the pergunnah. I doubt very much the accuracy of this statement in a pergunnah containing 55 villages; but since the subject has attracted separate and distinct notice, I have not considered it necessary for the present to direct more particular attention to it.

Education.

The road, connecting Rewaree with Sonah, passes through Tao-roo; and the complete repair of this road (the most important,) and of the others leading towards Buhora and Tijara, is apparently the principal benefit that at present we can confer on this pergunnah. The bridging of several formidable and deep nullahs which intersect the Sonah and Rewaree road is at present under consideration; and when the bridges are constructed it is to be hoped that this road, though at always heavy, from the nature of the soil of the country, will be at all times clear of any serious impediment. It does not seem that by the opening of any new lines, new markets could be laid open. Nor indeed are these required. Those of Rewaree or Sonah are abundant for all the purposes which it is likely that this little pergunnah can ever require. And its connection with those, can only be improved by the repairs to which I have just alluded as in progress.

Means of improvement—roads, bunds, reservoirs, drainage.

There are various nullahs of trifling size, which pass through this pergunnah. But the dip of the country is very considerable in the Buhora direction, and the torrents are in consequence so impetuous, that to bund would be difficult. Nor do I believe that in any part of the pergunnah is drainage required, or that reservoirs of water of general utility could be constructed.

REWAREE.

Rewaree is the most westerly pergunnah of this district, with which indeed it is connected to the east only by a narrow strip of land not more than four miles broad. On all other sides it is surrounded by the territories of the Nawabs of Jhujjur and Patoudee ; of the Rajah of Alwur ; and those of Kot Casim, held by his Majesty of Delhie. The latter has been recently made over in charge to the Agent to the Governor General at Delhie ; a change the benefit of which I sensibly feel in the management of my district, and which is advantageous not less to his Majesty than to the inhabitants of the pergunnah.

This is an important pergunnah. It contains not fewer than 286 villages, of which $60\frac{3}{4}$ are held in istumrar by the heirs of Tej Singh, and $6\frac{1}{4}$ are in jagheer. The area of the pergunnah is about 2,53,395 acres, and the population about 1,06,700 souls.

A memorandum of the tenures and proprietary classes I beg to annex in the margin.* The Aheers (for a description of whom I beg to refer to Mr. Elliot's Glossary,) greatly Tenures and proprietary classes.

The tenures are 69 bhyacharee, 70 putteedaree and 141 zemindaree ; 6 being unknown. The Aheers hold 181 villages, Rajpoots 28, Jats 23, Brahmins 5, Bunyas 4, Goojurs 8, Syuds 4, and the remainder are held by a mixed community.

predominate in this pergunnah. Indeed this class is no where else to be found so numerous. They are an excellent people ; quiet, and admirable cultivators. Some interesting particulars connected with the well-cultivation, for which this pergunnah, (and more particularly the Aheers) is so famous, will be found in Mr. Lawrence's report.

This pergunnah came into the possession of the British Government in 1803. It was then made over to the Rajah of Bhurtpore, in whose possession, however, it continued but for three years. Thereafter until 1216 F. S., it was farmed by Rao Tej Singh of Rewaree. Of its fiscal history, since divided into periods of 10 years, I annex the following memorandum.

Name of Pergunnah.	Number of Settlement.	PERIOD OF SETTLEMENT.		Average demand.	Average collections.	Average remissions.	Average balance.

The present settlement was concluded by Mr. Lawrence in 1838, and the assessment fixed at 2,50,465. Its principles are very fully explained in his own report.

The marginal memorandum* will show the changes which have since taken place: and in so large a pergunnah it must be considered that so small an extent of change, speaks well for the manner in which it has since worked.

There is no doubt, that in nearly all seasons this pergunnah can pay the revenue at which it has now been assessed. Balances, if they do occur, will be found to arise from other causes, than that most mischievous and injurious of over-assessment. At the same time, viewed comparatively, Rewaree will not, I believe, be found to have attained so large a relief as other pergunnahs of this district. This may have arisen perhaps, partly from its being nearly the first part of it that underwent revision, since at that date officers were not quite so certain of the disposition of the Government to light assessment as they soon after became; and partly, perhaps, from the condition of the people in this pergunnah requiring relief less imperatively than they did in others: in those for example of Pulwul and Sonah. However, I repeat, that with the assessment there is no fault to find, and that its amount can, I think, be always and easily collected.

The effect of the special commission, or of the enquiring into lands claimed rent-free in this pergunnah, will be seen from the subjoined memorandum.

Land claimed.	Land released.	Land resumed.
4,568 acres.	4,302 acres.	266 acres.

My information in regard to education tells me, that in the whole pergunnah of Rewaree there are 10 schools for Persian, the teachers in which receive from eleven to three rupees a month; and 7 schools for Hindee, the remuneration in which is much less, and paid in a variety of ways. I do not, however, regard this information as by any means complete, and I have refrained from attempting to improve it, under the knowledge that this matter was under the separate consideration of Government.

Excepting those suits, which, arising chiefly from the quarrels of the parties themselves, have been the means of reducing to poverty the heirs of Remarkable suits, &c. Tej Singh, (the holders of some 60 $\frac{3}{4}$ villages in Rewaree, worth not less than 70 or 80,000 rupees a year, at a quit rent of rupees 59,355-7-2,) I do not remember, nor can I discover, that there have occurred any suits in Rewaree which deserve to be noticed: nor do I believe that any old farms or talookahs have been recently dissolved, or that indeed, any such did here ever exist.

On the ruin of the old family of the Rajahs of Rewaree, which was once of such eminence, as to give the name of the city, which they founded, to a distinct currency, (the Gokul Sicca from Gokulgurh,) but of which there has not been for generations any direct descendant, the lineage being preserved by adoption, rose up that of the present istumrardars.

Tej Singh, the brother of some, and the grandfather of one of the present holders, was the agent for this ancient family, in attendance on Lord Lake, at the date of the conquest of Dehlie and this territory. He neglected his master's interest, and attended to his own, with so much success too, that he procured on his own family, the conferment of the istumrar, to the entire exclusion from all interest in the pergunnah of his master's family.

There is no other family of any note or importance in the pergunnah.

Rewaree is a town of considerable size and much commercial importance. It is of great antiquity, and tradition gives as its founder one of the sons of Chuttursal, the brother of the celebrated Prithee Raj.

The ruin of other cities in its vicinity, more particularly of Nucsheher near Bawul, and of Bekanere, a village of which name still exists near Rewaree, is reported to have added largely to this city. Since the establishment of our Government, a Government more favorable to that class to which Rewaree owes its importance, than any which ever existed in India, Rewaree has greatly advanced. It has not indeed been created under its influence like Bhewanie in Rohtuck (which is now a mart of hardly less importance,) but it is reported to have nearly quadrupled its population within the last forty years. And it is yearly increasing. Large and fine houses are constantly building, and the bazars exhibit that bustle and crowd which invariably bespeak wealth and commercial activity. Particulars of its trade and manufactures will be found in Mr. Lawrence's report. It contains probably not fewer than 40,000 inhabitants; and here reside a tehseeldar and a thanahdar.

The Sahibee and Kasoutee nullahs traverse the Rewaree pergunnah. For all purposes of navigation they are, being mere rain torrents, of course, utterly inadapted. But it will be observed that Mr. Lawrence estimates the injury done to the pergunnah of Rewaree by destruction of bunds over these nuddees on the remonstrance of Nijabut Alee of Jhujjur, at not less than the cessation of irrigation over some 50,000 acres of land. And here it may be remarked that we do not seem to insist on reciprocity in this matter of bunds. With us, the strong Government, the petty states in our vicinity do as they like. They insist on our destroying all the bunds existing in our territory, that may in any degree affect them. But as regards those which exist in their own countries, they would seem to maintain or destroy them, as it suits their own good pleasure ; vide the Jhujjur, the Alwur and the Puttiallee States.

Means of improvement.

This no doubt is very magnanimous in a great Government, but at the same time it is somewhat ridiculous ; or if we consider that, in thus acting, we injuriously affect the interests of the people we govern, it becomes somewhat more than ridiculous.

I do not believe that any where in Rewaree is drainage required, or that any reservoirs could be formed of considerable public benefit.

The roads are matter of much importance as connected with Rewaree, and they certainly admit of much improvement, more however in the improvement of existing lines than in the opening of any new. Of the latter description, the only line that I propose to attempt, is one which will lead directly cross the hills from Rewaree to Noh.*

This, saving as it will do a very great distance, will be undoubtedly a most beneficial line. It existed of old and was stopped up not very many years ago. The other roads of importance are those towards Dehlie, and Sonah, and Shahjehanpore. The latter is, with a little exception, in a tolerable state. Towards Dehlie it is fearfully heavy ; and since the soil is all sand, nothing but metal can be expected to improve it, and even metal would continually run the risk of being overwhelmed with the sand, and require constant attention to keep it clear. On this road too, much elevation and bridging would be required, and on the whole, though the line is important in every point of view, its improvement can only be satisfactorily effected by the Government. The Sonah road was first effectually opened across the hills above Sonah, by Mr. C. Gubbins. That part of the road is carefully looked after, and bridges* will shortly be built over some of the torrents that intervene in the remaining space of some 16 coss. But this distance, too, is through a country such as that which I have described between Rewaree and Dehlie, and its permanent improvement could only be effected at an expense which the importance of the road, (after all, but a cross one, and not likely to come into use as a military line,) hardly deserves.

* This line has been surveyed by me since these paras. were written ; and the expense of opening it, and of constructing the many bridges which to render it efficient, would be required, has compelled me to relinquish the idea.

* To render these bridges of real service to the line, it would also be necessary to bridge the Sahibee, which intersects the road about midway between Rewaree and Sonah ; and this work would involve so large an expense, that the notion of bridging at all on this line has, for the present, been abandoned.
